World's Churches Will Open Crucial Assembly Sunday

Evanston Meeting Could Result In Closer Ties, or Widening Split

A meeting starting next Sunday in Evanston, Ill., will determine whether centuries-old divisions among Christian religions can be made smaller or must grow still wider. Here is the first of four articles on the Assembly of the World Council of Churches, which some churchmen have called the most important religious event since the Reformation.

By GEORGE W. CORNELL

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP)—Most of the world's churches are moving toward a fateful crossroad.

Which way they turn can mean either closer ties or sharper gaps in the centuries-old divisions of Christianity.

The answer hinges on the Assembly of the World Council of Churches opening here next Sunday.

"It will be a critical test," said Dr. W. A. Visser't Hooft, the council's general secretary. "We shall see which is stronger—the force of unity or the force of division."

The meeting will be the most widely representative Christian gathering ever held on the American continent.

In range of subjects, purposes and participation, it may well be the most comprehensive Christian assembly ever called.

All things considered, said Dr. Franklin Clark Fry, head of the United Lutheran Church and vice chairman of the council's central committee, "It is the most crucial interchurch meeting in Christian history."

FUNDAMENTAL theological questions, buried through the years in the ashes of denominational cleavages and regional aloofness, will be raised in the first such broad attempt to cement Christianity's scattered forces.

"The assembly will deal with subjects that go to the very heart of the faith," Dr. Fry said. "It is a daring thing to do.

First of a Series

"The outcome can determine the lasting strength of the whole movement to bring the churches closer together and increase their effectiveness."

More than 1,500 representatives from 161 denominations with approximately 170 million members in 48 countries on both sides of the Iron Curtain will take part in the meeting.

Dr. Henry P. Van Dusen, president of Union Theological Seminary and chairman of the council's U S. study committee, described it this way:

"The most truly ecumenical assemblage of the followers of Christ who have ever met 'in one accord in one place' in the 20 centuries since His life and death and resurrection."

Although the World Council met once previously—at its founding six years ago in Amsterdam—it is digging for the first time into basic and potentially shattering — or consolidating — matters of faith.

Dr. Samuel McCrea Cavert, the council's American secretary, said he believes that the churches, "instead of finding themselves far apart, will discover that they are on common ground to a far greater extent than they have known."

It is such discoveries, on less ticklish theological matters, that started and spurred on the present-day "ecumenical movement"—to rebuild a firm alliance of the world's Christian churches.

That huge project, reckoning with centuries in which churches have been breaking up and going their hard, separate ways, had its tiny beginnings at a missionary conference in 1910 at Edinburgh, Scotland.

It was dreamed, discussed and designed at succeeding meetings of Christian leaders in Stockholm in 1925, in Lausanne, Switzerland in 1927, at Oxford and Edinburgh in 1937. In 1948 at Amsterdam it culminated in the World Council.

The council does not seek to become a world church, or even to arrange mergers, viewing that as the task of individual denominations.

But it does seek, said Dr. Visser't Hooft, "to be an instrument of the Holy Spirit for healing our divisions."

EXCEPT FOR THE Roman Catholic, nearly every major church will be represented.

Although Roman Catholic churchmen have attended some previous meetings of World Council groups, none will be present at Evanston under a ruling by Samuel Cardinal Stritch of the Chicago Archdiocese.

There have, however, been articles and studies by Roman Catholic leaders on the assembly's theme. Said an American Catholic publication, The Pilot:

"No true Christian at any rate will look with indifference at the hopes that are set in Evanston."

Whether those hopes find root—and spring into new harvests of harmony — depends on a wide field of uncertainties.

There will be varying shades of interpretation on terminology, the differences of theological emphasis accumulated through long isolation from each other, cultural and national prejudices, and difficulties of language translation.

There will be various perspectives of liberal and conservative churches of old, dominant churches and young, struggling churches in hostile surroundings, of churches in lands that are free and lands that are not free.

Due to doctrinal differences, all the delegates will not even take part in the same Communion services. But they will pray together, talk together and hope together—to find a truer way.

"Something is going to happen at Evanston this summer," said the Episcopal weekly, The Living Church. "But just what is going to happen is anybody's guess."

Senate Okay On Atom Bill To Be Forced

Won't Adjourn Until Compromise Passes, Knowland Declares

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Knowland (R-Calif) said today the Senate will stay in session—no matter how long it takes—to approve a compromise version of President Eisenhower's new atomic energy blueprint.

The two-week senate debate required before the bill was passed originally was the major factor in wrecking congressional leaders' hopes of adjourning July 31. They are aiming now for this Saturday.

House Version Approved

The House passed by voice vote late yesterday a compromise version of the bill designed to spur the entrance of private industry into the field of peaceful atomic power, and to permit sharing of such nuclear secrets with U. S. allies.

Knowland, the Senate Republican leader, told newsmen he will not offer any adjournment-recess resolution until after the measure, worked out by a Senate-House conference committee, is passed.

"The bill is going to be passed," he said. "The Senate has voted 2-1 in favor of it and the conference report isn't going to be rejected. I don't know how much talk there will be on it. But we are going to stay here until it is passed."

Little Time Lost

Opponents who argue that some provisions of the bill would prove the way for monopoly in the atomic power field have said they regard as good the chances that the Senate will vote to send the measure back once again to a Senate-House conference. The idea would be to revise provisions to which they object.

The House took little time yesterday in disposing of the bill, which it originally passed in a 17-hour session on July 30-31 while the Senate was in the midst of a 13-day talkfest.

The major controversy now centers on a provision dealing with patents on privately financed civilian developments in atomic energy. The bill provides for the issuance of exclusive patents, but requires that preference in issuing licenses for atomic manufacturing projects during the first five years be given to concerns that agree to share patents.

Originally, the House voted for normal 17-year renewable patents with no requirement that they be shared. The Senate bill provided for a 10-year period of compulsory patent-sharing.

Betts Schedules Meetings Here Aug. 19 and 20

Congressman Jackson E. Betts of Findlay will be in Marion on Aug. 19 and 20 to give his local constituents an opportunity to discuss any problem or opinion touching on official duties.

He established this procedure of conducting "at home" conferences with the citizens of the Eighth District when he first entered Congress.

After Sept. 1, Congressman Betts will be available in his Findlay office by appointment except at those times when it may be necessary for him to be in Washington.

The Findlay man will be in the commissioners' office on the ground floor of the Courthouse on Aug. 19 and 20 from 9 to 11:30 a.m. and 1 to 4 p.m.

He will begin his itinerary in Tiffin on Monday, Aug. 16, at the commissioners' office, and will be in Fostoria at the postoffice building on Tuesday, Aug 17.

After his Marion visit, Congressman Betts' schedule is as follows: Bucyrus, Monday, Aug. 23, commissioners' office; Upper Sandusky, Tuesday, Aug. 24, commissioners' office; Crestline, Wednesday, Aug. 25, Post Office Bldg.; Kenton, Thursday, Aug. 26, commissioners' office; Mount Gilead, Friday, Aug. 27, commissioners' office; and Galion, Monday, Aug. 30, Post Office Bldg.

California Lumber Town Put on Block

LITTLE VALLEY, Calif. (AP) — Bidding on this little lumber town started yesterday with a bang—and there wasn't much left of the town's physical assets today.

More than 300 people bid on and bought the general store, the post office, lumber company administration building, school, tools, truck equipment and supplies.

The remainder of the town—60 houses—will be sold today.

The sawmill burned down here in April and the Indian Head Lumber Co. decided it would be easier to liquidate than rebuild.

Backers of Ike's Farm Bill Push Toward Final Victory

ROGER TOUHY FREED FROM PRISON. Roger (The Terrible) Touhy, 55, walks along corridor in Chicago's Federal building after a federal judge ordered him released in $10,000 bond. Touhy, holding hat over manacles, is in custody of bailiff (left). Touhy was convicted of the kidnaping of Jake (the Barber) Factor July 1, 1933, and appealed. Judge John P. Barnes ordered Touhy released, he said, for one thing because Touhy had not been afforded proper counsel.

Flexible Price Supports Get Senate's Okay

Administration Wins By Narrow 49-44 Vote On Chief Issue in Plan

WASHINGTON (AP)—Supporters of the Administration farm proposals continued their victory drive in the Senate today by killing mandatory supports for feed grains and soybeans.

They beat down 54-33 a substitute amendment offered by Sens. Young (R-ND) and Humphrey (D-Minn) calling for mandatory supports at 75 to 90 per cent of parity on oats, rye barley, grain sorghums and soybeans.

Aiken Opposed Bill

Sens. Aiken (R-Vt) and Anderson (D-NM) opposed this. They said controls over planting and marketing of these crops would be required if supports were mandatory.

Then the Senate approved 52-39 a proposal by Aiken, Anderson and others to knock from the Senate bill a provision tieing mandatory supports for the four small grains to support levels for corn.

It had been sponsored by Young, Humphrey and others who favored extending rigid 90 per cent on basic crops, cotton, wheat, corn, rice and peanuts.

Today's first vote came after more than two hours of angry debate in which campaign pledges of President Eisenhower to farmers and actions by Secretary of Agriculture Benson were sharply criticized and defended.

Sen. Humphrey told the Senate that he does not trust Benson.

Flexible Supports

The Administration, winner on two major price support issues yesterday, pushed for final Senate action on the controversial farm legislation.

Yesterday's victories were adoption of the flexible support principle for major crops in a range between 82½ and 90 per cent of parity, and approval of language allowing Benson to continue dairy supports at 75 per cent.

Parity is a computed price intended to be fair to farmers in terms of the price of things they buy.

The Senate made these decisions

U.S. To Assist In Evacuating Viet Refugees

Navy Transports Sent to Indochina To Transfer Civilians

HANOI, Indochina, (AP) — The United States backed up its promise of aid to Free Viet Nam today with American Navy transports to evacuate thousands from the future domain of the Vietminh Communists.

An unspecified number of American transports arrived in Haiphong, North Indochina's chief seaport, last night to begin transfer of Vietnamese civilians seeking escape to South Viet Nam.

They came in the wake of Washington's announcement that the U.S. government had agreed to South Viet Nam Premier Ngo Dinh Diem's request for help in speeding up the transfer of more than 100,000 refugees from the northern areas ceded to the Vietminh.

The U.S. reply, delivered in Saigon yesterday by Ambassador Donald Heath, promised American help also in "enabling the refugees, . . to resume existence under their chosen government" but warned

"The United States will expect the maximum cooperation of the government of Viet Nam. . ."

The American economic mission in Saigon also has asked Washington for 15 two-engine transport planes and 4 four-engine planes to swell the Hanoi-to-Saigon airlift.

Emboldened by the American promise of help, the Viet Nam government announced that it planned to evacuate several hundred thousand refugees within 30 days instead of over 10-months as originally planned. Officials have grown increasingly alarmed at the inroads which Vietminh propaganda and threats have been making in the ranks of previously anti-Communist Vietnamese in the north.

Ex-Gang Chief Leaves Prison After 20 Years

Judge Decides Touhy Was Convicted by Perjured Testimony

CHICAGO (AP)—"I'm just looking for peace of mind. . .No, I'm not thinking of revenge. . .When you've been in the penitentiary for as long as I have, you forget about revenge."

These were some of the comments yesterday of Roger (the Terrible) Touhy, one of the nation's top gang leaders in the Prohibition era, who had just won his freedom from prison.

The 55-year old gray - haired Touhy, one-time arch gang foe of the late Al Capone, had served more than 20 years in Stateville Prison for a kidnaping which Federal Judge John P. Barnes termed a hoax.

Touhy was sentenced in 1934 to 99 years in prison for the kidnaping in 1933 of John (Jake the Barber) Factor, once internationally known confidence man. He received an additional 199 years for his part in his escape from prison with five other convicts in 1942.

But Judge Barnes ruled that Touhy had no part in the "alleged"

Congress Now Hopes To Wind Up Next Week

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican congressional leaders told President Eisenhower today they now hope to wind up the legislative session some time next week. They had been trying previously to close up shop by Saturday.

In announcing the new target time, Senate Republican Leader Knowland of California told newsmen there still is some doubt whether action on the legislative program can be completed next week.

He added that it all depends on whether there is "another filibuster" against the Administration's atomic energy bill.

James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary, said the President will defer his Colorado vacation as long as both the Senate and the House remain in session. He indicated that Eisenhower plans to leave for Denver as soon as the House completes its work, even though the Senate will remain in session beyond that time while a special committee looks into censure charges against Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis). Hearings on that matter are scheduled to start Aug 30.

Knowland, House Speaker Martin of Massachusetts and other GOP congressional leaders held their regular weekly conference with Eisenhower today.

Mexican Youth Admits Killing 10 in Robberies

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Police are holding a 19-year-old, Jose Lazaro Gonzales, who has admitted killing at least 10 men.

Gonzales said robbery usually was his motive. The biggest haul he could remember was $2.56 the smallest 8 cents.

Police said the youth was one of a band of professional killers.

Mexico has no death penalty.

Cash Exhausted

Special Fund Drive Set by Polio Group

Because both local and national funds for polio treatment and research are exhausted, an emergency March of Dimes drive will be held in Marion from Aug. 16 to 31, Bert Freed, chairman of the local chapter of the March of Dimes, described the fund's plight as "a serious danger to every family in Marion County."

Current bank balance of the local chapter stands at less than $10, Freed explained, which means that, if no new funds are collected, patients now under care will be forced either to pay their own bills or return home.

LOCAL MARCH OF DIMES funds, part of which go to the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, are used for treatment and care of local polio victims. The patient is expected to pay what he can afford, and March of Dimes funds make up the rest.

In his explanation of campaign plans, Freed said the principal theme would be "A Dollar a Family." He added that about a dollar from every family in Marion County would "put us on our feet."

As of July, 1954, the local chapter had a cash balance in the bank of $8.82, and additional bills due and payable but not paid, in the amount of $1,650.

The chapter began the year with a cash balance from 1953 of $8.47, which added to the $8,946 collected in the 1954 March of Dimes and other receipts after close of the drive amounting to $100, gave the chapter total receipts of $9,065 for 1954.

Expenditures of the local chapter, as of July, included $7,606 for hospital treatment, $503 for purchase and repair of braces, and $86 for surgery and special doctor treatment.

THE NATIONAL Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, a national organization made up of local chapters and supported solely by public contributions, is also in a position of financial crisis. Almost all of the Foundation's reserve,

Soviets Ready Reception for Attlee, Bevan

Ex-Prime Minister Of Britain in Group Headed for Red China

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviets readied a formal reception today for former British Prime Minister Clement Attlee and seven other Labor party leaders en route to Red China.

Attlee and his party, including left-winger Aneurin Bevan, were due here by plane late this afternoon for a two-day stopover.

The former prime minister, who negotiated with Stalin at the Potsdam conference, was expected to be received by Stalin's successor, Premier Georgi Malenkov. There was some speculation the Soviet premier might also talk with Bevan.

The visitors' schedule here included a Soviet government reception tonight and a British embassy dinner tomorrow night to which Britain's ambassador, Sir William Hayter, invited Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov, Deputy Minister Andrei Vishinsky and other top men.

Observers in the Soviet capital were certain the Russians would stress their constant theme of Communist and non-Communist worlds and their desire for increased East-West trade.

The Soviets also were sure to dwell at length on their post-Geneva diplomatic line that more East-West conferences can solve more of the world's problems if

Cleveland Pair Killed in Crash Near Mt. Gilead

Man and Woman Die Instantly When Auto Leaves Road, Hits Tree

A Parma man and a Cleveland woman were killed when their car failed to make a sharp curve on State Route 61, about three miles south of Mount Gilead early this morning.

State patrolmen from the Marion post said the car left the road and hit a tree three feet in diameter, ripping the car into two pieces and throwing the motor 35 feet from the scene. Time of the accident was 5:10 this morning.

The dead man was identified as Frank T. Linx, 30, of 8205 Pleasant Valley Rd. in Parma. His companion was tentatively identified this morning as Mary Louise Bibler, 20, of 3150 W. 46th St. in Cleveland.

Patrolmen said both persons died instantly. The two bodies had to be removed from the mangled car by workmen from the Myers Garage in Mount Gilead.

The bodies were taken to the Craven Funeral Home in Mount Gilead. Both persons had fractured skulls and crushed chests.

In addition, both the man's legs were completely severed. Officers said parts of the car were strewn about the highway in all directions.

The car struck the tree about nine feet from the ground. The car was owned by the Five J and J Furnace Co. of Parma.

Some Charges Could Go, Says M'Carthy Critic

WASHINGTON, (AP) — Sen. Fulbright (D-Ark) said today he would not object to discarding some accusations against Sen. McCarthy so long as the Senate gets a chance to vote on whether the Wisconsin Republican has shown "disregard for the whole orderly conduct of government."

A six-member Senate committee decided yesterday to give McCarthy the right to cross-examine witnesses in public hearings to begin Aug. 30 on accusations that his conduct has tended to bring the Senate into disrepute and merits formal censure.

Members said the special group, headed by Sen. Watkins (R-Utah), is aiming at a 10-day hearing and a mid-September report. The Senate might reconvene Oct. 1 to act on such a report.

Watkins said the group, composed of three Republicans and three Democrats, hopes to conduct its hearings much as a court trial.

Cleveland Chief Raps Delay in Sheppard Case

CLEVELAND (AP)— Police Chief Frank W. Story complained today that the defense is causing undue delay in the Sheppard murder case and said he favors taking the action directly to the grand jury.

The chief expressed impatience with "legal technicalities" injected by attorneys for Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard. The 31-year-old osteopath is charged with first degree murder in the slaying of his wife last July 4.

Carrying records of the investigation, Story met with County Prosecutor Frank T. Cullitan to discuss the matter. He said he wanted to "get Cullitan's thinking."

Since Dr. Sheppard's arrest on July 30, the defense had sought unsuccessfully to declare the warrant illegal and to have Acting Mayor Gershom M. Barber of Bay Village disqualified from holding a preliminary hearing. A charge of prejudice against Barber now must

CODDLING CUT

MOSCOW (INS) — The Lenin Pioneers, Soviet boy and girl scouts, will have to rough it this summer at camp. After a preseason look at Pioneer camping, the Young Communist League newspaper "Komsomol Pravda" concludes "we look after our children too well."

Girl in 'Roadeo' Finals

'Woman Driver' Cracks Unfair, Says Ohio Bride

By HERB ALTSCHULL

WASHINGTON (AP)—The only gal to make the finals of a nationwide teen-age driving contest said today it isn't fair to poke fun at women drivers.

"Some men are good drivers and some aren't. Some women are good drivers and some aren't," said Mary Lou Crum, a 17-year-old bride from East Palestine, Ohio She will compete against 50 boys for the $1,250 top prize in the contest the sponsoring Junior Chamber of Commerce calls the "roadeo" The final competition starts tomorrow.

Strength Is Factor

She explained her reasoning this way: "How tall you are and how strong you are—they count a lot in who gets to the finals"

Mary Lou said a girl may be just as good a driver as a boy but: "Girls aren't as strong. It takes more effort for them to return the wheel. They're not tall enough, either. They can't see out of the window as well. And they don't let you use pillows in the roadeo."

Mary Lou doesn't need a pillow to see through the window and she looks perfectly capable of taking care of herself. She's a pretty five feet five

She said she's not scared of challenging the 50 boys but: "I wish there was at least one more girl here"

Learned in Year

Mary Lou didn't even know how to shift gears a year ago But she enrolled in a driver training course at high school and with the coaching of James Nesbitt her teacher, trounced all opposition in county and statewide driving tests.

That earned her a $75 war bond and a trip to Washington to face the winners from the other 47 states Hawaii, Canada and the District of Columbia.

If Mary Lou wins top honors, she plans to use the money logically enough She'll buy a car.

Cruises Down Potomac

Ike Keeps a Promise— Takes Children for Ride

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower had promised his grandchildren a boat ride.

Kids never forget a promise like that. So last night he took them on a 4½-hour cruise down the Potomac River to George Washington's historic home at Mount Vernon.

3 Sleepy Children

When the trip ended at 10 p.m., grinning grandfather Eisenhower led the three small and sleepy children ashore, looking every bit as though he had as much fun as they did.

Five-year-old Barbara Anne walked across the gangplank at the Naval Gun Factory pier wearing a nightgown under a robe. A maid carried tired little Susan. She's 2.

David, 6, had more spark left than his sisters. When the 64-foot Navy cabin cruiser pulled to the pier, David and the President were perched side by side on a deck cushion in the bow. They watched the mooring operation with interest.

The cruise got under way in the late afternoon in perfect weather after a torrential rain had threatened to wash it out.

Parents Aboard

On board in addition to the President and Mrs. Eisenhower and the children were the youngsters' parents, Maj. and Mrs John S. Eisenhower; the First Lady's sister and her husband, Col. and Mrs. Gordon Moore, and the two Moore children, Mamie 13, and Ellen, 12 The party had dinner aboard.

As the craft cast off, the President—a big smile on his face—was seated on the open fantail with Susan on his lap. David sat alongside with a life preserver around his shoulders. Barbara Anne scanned the horizon through a pair of binoculars.

"All right children," their grandfather called, "here we go"

The President promised the boat ride when his grandchildren arrived for a White House visit three weeks ago. They had been after him ever since to make good.

AFL Rejects View Economy Is Stable

NEW YORK (AP)—The AFL Executive Council, rejecting the view that the nation's economy has been stabilized, says, "there is every indication of continued drift in the economic doldrums for the next few months."

The council urges a program of higher wages and increased purchasing power as the "common goal of labor, industry and government."

"In terms of human needs and wants," the council said in a statement yesterday "the impact of the recession still weighs heavily on our country" It said the nation needs to fill a gap of 14 billion dollars a year in total wages and salaries to reach the level "if full prosperity had been maintained"

The statement was issued at the opening session of the council's quarterly meeting. Recommendations for the AFL's national convention are worked out at these meetings This year's convention will open Sept 20 in Los Angeles.

Ho Chi Minh

By George Sokolsky

The new figures which emerge in so many place these days upon our consciousness and into history were not born yesterday To understand them it is necessary to search out their pasts their ideas as students, their political associations, their training Only then can we understand who it is with whom we deal because the mature man is only an older boy

SOKOLSKY

For instance I have never been able to understand Gen George Marshall s lack of knowledge of Chinese personalities since he was in Tientsin as the executive officer of the 15th Infantry from 1924-27 when he was a lieutenant colonel

This was the period of the union between the Kuomintang and the Communists leading to the split during Christmas week of 1926 27

These were years of revolution of civil warfare of the marching of troops and of protective measures taken by foreign troops including the 15th Infantry

THE UNITED STATES sent additional Marines to protect American lives and property under Gen Smedley Butler and some were stationed in Tientsin and nearby Peking

The original leader of the Chinese Communists was Chen Tu shiu who was replaced by Chu Teh and Mao Tze-tung and Li Lih-san

Surely Gen Marshall when he was in Tientsin, read at least the local newspapers printed in English, which gave full accounts of these events Chou En lai when he was in China in those years lived in Tientsin

Similarly it is astonishing that Ho Chi Minh is made out to be a man of mystery In those same years that is between 1924 27, he spent considerable time with the Chinese Communists in Canton and in the drive northward

His original name was Nguyen Ai Quoc and he is an Annamite Since boyhood he has been a revolutionists spending many years abroad in China, England and France

He actually joined the Communist party in Paris and was sent to Moscow in 1923 for an indoctrination course which is essential for all Communists who are to become leaders in their own countries

He was for a time in 1924 employed in the Soviet consulate in Boston a position which is to be explained by the fact that many important Communists are citizens not only of their own countries but of Soviet Russia as well

MOST OF THE years between 1924 and 1930 he spent in Asia principally China and Siam working for the Revolution

The Vietminh movement which Ho Chi Minh heads started as a united front operation designed to bring together all elements in Indochina conservative liberal and Communists in an anti French effort to end colonialism

It was naturally popular as the French have always been disliked in Indochina and received support from many anti Communist elements

Few realized, at first, that it was a Communist movement directed by the Third International and that Ho had been especially trained for it

With such a history it is difficult to understand why the United States Office of Strategic Services employed Ho Chi Minh as an agent The OSS was designed to establish a super intelligence agency to provide our government with correct information on all subjects

How could Ho Chi Minh provide correct information when he was an agent of Soviet Russia who had worked for the Kremlin in France the United States China and Siam and who had been especially prepared to establish and lead the Communist revolution in Indochina

THE OSS HAS been accused of having been infiltrated by Communists and the CIA has been accused of retaining too many OSS employes

It is still not too late to study what the OSS actually did during its short existence and to find the reason why Communists were employed by it Gen Mark Clark might go into that

Particularly it would be of some interest to know why such a character as Ho Chi Minh with a revolutionary history since 1910 when he was 18 years old was employed by the United States Gen Wild Bill Donovan may have an explanation and the American people ought to have it

Instead of fewer congressional investigations we ought to have more of them because it is essential for the American people to know why when we thought we had on a war in 1945 we know in 1954 that we lost it Why?

Golden Unions

By Victor Riesel

DUSSELDORF

If the workers of the world ever unite they will certainly be a solid gold proletariat If they ever pool their money and businesses they will make the old international tycoons now spending a sporadic day in castles off the big German rivers think the old cartels were little stores with apartments in the back

RIESEL

While the good old USA is spending a million dollars a year to help Europe s unions the German labor federation called the DGB has an annual income of 40 million dollars a year This Socialist - controlled labor federation whose young men aren t over fond of our AFL because It s too anti-Communist all the time in its propaganda ' is not exactly allergic to capitalist enterprise

THE GERMAN UNIONS run seven banks which have extended credit and have a cash balance and assets of some 50 million dollars

The DGB has real estate—housing developments, with more than 60 000 apartments at the last count conservatively worth about 200 million dollars

This German DGB has a motion picture company which I am told produces 'Hollywood type movies as well as propaganda films

It runs a high seas fishing company capitalized at $600 000

It has big stock holdings in the Borgward auto company which makes cars and trucks In effect it controls the cooperative movement which has textile mills food processing plants and a score of other businesses

This national labor federation publishes at least 60 periodicals with a combined circulation of 11 000 000 It also runs cultural congresses which few other forces in this nation can afford

IT BUYS SO much material and has such vast staffs that it has organized a purchasing company called GEG with a capitalization of over 6 million dollars

I want to add that although some of the DGB national leaders have announced that German labor is now through accepting the wage standard set after the war so Germany could recover and that there will be a dynamic fight for higher wages — some DGB staffers in the national headquarters here have asked me to say that the national labor federations wage policy towards its own staff employes is dismal

The DGB people are paid worse than comparably skilled specialists and white collar workers receive in outside industry

The DGB also has a life insurance company with a capital of $600 000 This is about 2 500 000 in Deutsche marks and is therefore bigger than the dollar equivalent indicates to Americans

The DBG though it officially is politically neutral really is the bulwark of the German Socialist party — which is anti - Communist anti - Russian and fights for civic reform But it is not in love with the U S A and is an old line Socialist outfit believing in the liquidation of capitalism as we live it in America

ALL OF WHICH leads me to report that a 94 000 mark check — about $25 000 — issued by one of our governmental agencies has just been delivered to the International Metal Workers Federation in Switzerland for redistribution to some metal workers unions in Europe Twenty five thousand bucks is not much as billions go in our federal agencies But why are we footing this bill — and for what?

If Harold Stassen s Foreign Operations Administration wants to fight the good fight fine But one of the wealthiest sections of the International Metal Workers Federation is its German division—the DGB s National Metal Workers Union Led by a Max Brenner it has 1 600 000 members and is considered the most powerful union in the DGB It has a national take of about a million dollars a month 12 million a year

Now all through Europe you hear the labor people say that it s time the U S government stopped interfering stopped sending its money and advice Good The money can come now out of the treasury of the wealthy European labor movements — and if Mr Stassen insists on spending our money he can use it for housing and feeding of the front line Berliners and refugees from the East Zone

The European labor people don t need our money Why do we shove it on them?

Indian Education

By Hal Boyle

PINE RIDGE S D

Progressive education may be a new idea to the white man but it s old stuff to the Sioux Indians

Some modern parents today are afraid to curb their offspring for fear of giving them a lifelong complex

HAL BOYLE

As for the Sioux Indians they apparently refrained from punishing their children because it was part of their creed to respect any person s right to be individual

The Indian parent believed a child should be taught by example not by coercion A tribal leader said he felt that if he had taught the child the right way of life he had done his duty and he was not to blame if the child chose to go wrong

This attitude has delayed the education of the Sioux Indians If an Indian child decides he doesn t want to go to school authorities have a difficult time convincing the parents they should compel him to attend

One doctor told of an Indian girl who was visited by her parents in a hospital where she was undergoing treatment for tuberculosis Homesick the girl pleaded to leave the hospital with them

If you take her home she will be dead in three months ' warned the doctor

But she wants to come home ' said the father

The girl went home In three months she was dead

VALOR PLAYED a great role in the credo of the old Sioux warriors of the plains

Today many young Indian men feel the only way they can prove their valor is to join the Army or to get a job with a rodeo" said an official on the Oglala Sioux Reservation here

Some 500 Indians left the reservation to fight in the first World War 2 000 in the second They make practically fine infantrymen and their casualties were heavy

A number of the tribesmen also volunteered for action in Korea Some 2 000 veterans now live on or near the reservation

IN THE REMOTE sections of the reservation some of the older Indians now and then still feast on young dog once highly prized as a delicacy But knowing how the white man feels about such a menu they don t send out formal invitations

However the Rev John Bryde a young Jesuit missionary who dwells among the Indians and is well loved by them chanced to arrive at a moment when a local specialty was the piece de resistance The embarrassed Indians invited him to join them figuring he wouldn t know the difference Father Bryde joined them—for one bite

It tasted he said like a wet dog smells

ASKED WHAT HE thought was the best thing about the Indians way of life when he freely roamed the prairies a wrinkled tribesman replied The absence of money '

Their inability to absorb the white man s attitude toward material wealth remains as a major stumbling block in their acceptance of civilization

The white man invented radio and TV giveaway programs to dramatize the plight of people in distress The Sioux Indian giveaway system is just the reverse

Even today in times of grief over the death of a member an Indian family sometimes will call in friends and neighbors and distribute all its possessions among them For some reason this makes everybody feel better particularly the neighbors

Damage Suits Total $20,170

Two Money Actions Filed in Court Here

Two damage suits, asking damages totaling $20,170, have been filed in the Marion County Common Pleas Court by a New York state resident and a 12-year-old Marion boy.

Vonda O. Benedict of Woodside, Long Island, N. Y., is asking $19,170 damages from the Kroger Co. store at 246 S. Prospect St. for injuries she alleges she sustained in a fall on Aug. 9, 1953 in the store.

In her petition she claims she slipped on a lettuce leaf in an aisleway and fell to the floor, injuring her hips and knees. She is being represented by Ralph E. Carhart.

Twelve-year-old Ronald E. Williams, through his father, Ralph K. Williams of 466 Olney Ave., is asking $10,000 damages from Phyllis Trafzer of 489 McKinley St. for injuries sustained Oct. 10, 1953 when he was riding a bicycle.

In his petition, the boy claims he was heading east on Foster Lane when the defendant, driving an automobile south on Blaine Ave., collided with the bicycle. He was thrown forward to the pavement, the boy says, and sustained multiple abrasion of the head and face, a contusion of the forehead, and severe injury to his right arm.

Representing the plaintiff is the law firm of Donithen, Michel and Davis.

A maid found her five-week-old baby, whose body was badly decomposed, last April 20, while cleaning the hotel room Miss Brain had quit more than a week earlier.

She told police she slipped and fell on the child, crushing its head. Cause of death was undetermined by a coroner's jury.

Resources Exploited

Russians Drain Off Rich Oil Stores Under Vienna

VIENNT, (NANA) — The citizens of Vienna are watching anxiously as, month by month, a tall forest of Soviet oil derricks moves closer to them.

Already, the bore towers have reached the city's outskirts. At Aspern, Russian engineers are busy erecting a crop of them a few hundred yards from the trolley lines.

New derricks going up next to the municipal gas-works in the Vienna suburb of Leopoldau. The danger of fire is very great.

THE ANXIOUS VIENNESE remember only too well the terrible oil fires which broke out so frequently at Zistersdorf, Matzen and Aderlea—the so-called "German property" oil towns 25 miles northeast of the city, fires that lit up the sky over the capital at night with their lurid, frightening glare.

"The soil, the resource and the wealth of nature are the communal property of the people," reads Article Six of the Soviet constitution. But, of course, this does not apply to "conquered territories." At the end of the war the Red Army seized all the Austrian oil fields, declared them "ex-German property," and set to work to exploit the rich natural resources.

In nine years the Russians have succeeded in extracting 14,000,000 tons of oil worth $208,000,000—three times as much as the output from 1938-1945.

In 1952 alone, the Russians drew off three times as much oil as did the Germans under the urgent pressure of wartime needs in 1942, a record year.

THE RUSSIANS HAVE now turned their attention to the rich deposits running underneath the city of Vienna itself.

The grave danger of oil fires, and the threat to Austrian lives and property in this city of nearly 2,000,000 inhabitants, do not seem to worry the Russians.

The Soviets require the oil not only for their own heavy industries, but to sell to the West for coveted dollars.

Even if Austria should by some miracle secure a peace treaty in the near future, the doom of the country's oil resources probably is sealed. Western experts believe the Russians would insist on being granted exclusive oil-prospecting rights for the next 30 years, and, in the opinion of western oil experts, under present mishandling Austria's oil deposits will have ceased to exist by 1960.

Woman Fights Off Angry Bull With Umbrella

LEBANON, Conn. (AP)—Mrs. Rose Stegal, 58, visiting here from New York, fought off a snorting, 1,500-pound bull with her umbrella yesterday.

She had been walking with her niece in a field near her sister's home when the bull charged. The niece ran screaming.

Mrs. Stegal, unable to make a fast getaway, closed her umbrella, sidestepped and jabbed the bull. The bull turned and charged again. Mrs. Stegal sidestepped and jabbed.

After the furious bull had made several passes and missed, Mrs. Stegal's brother-in-law came to the rescue.

He jumped into his car and sped toward the bull.

The bull raced into the woods and disappeared.

Then Mrs. Stegal fainted.

Two Juveniles, 16, Held in Car Theft

City juvenile officials today were questioning two 16-year-old Marion juveniles in connection with the theft of an automobile from the Drumm Nash Sales used car lot on W. Center St. Sunday.

Police Chief Tom Coon said they were apprehended yesterday morning in Circleville by state highway patrolmen. They were returned yesterday afternoon for questioning.

The car was taken from the Drumm lot early Sunday morning. City police here in a cruiser driving west on Center St. noticed the car coming out of the lot and gave chase but lost the car near Essex in Union County after an hour-long chase. The car was also involved in a hit skip accident here shortly after it left the used car lot.

Railroad Must Restore Columbus-Toledo Run

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—The Chesapeake & Ohio Railroad was ordered by the state utilities commission today to restore a "businessman's" train between Toledo and Columbus within 30 days.

The commission specified the train must leave Toledo between 6:30 and 7:30 a. m. and arrive in Columbus between 9:30 and 10:30 a. m. The train, on its return to Toledo, must leave Columbus between 5:30 and 6:30 p. m., the commission directed.

The order culminated a long fight led by Toledo business and professional men for a train schedule which would permit Toledoans to transact a full day's business in the state capital and return to Toledo the same day.

Polio

collected last January in the Mother's March on Polio," has been spent. Although unprecedented for public support, January's drive fell short of its budgeted goal by $200,000,000. As a result, tightly-budgeted funds for this year are exhausted.

Among the expenditures that exhausted the fund was the $26,500,000 spent on the gamma globulin and trial vaccine programs. The historic vaccine trials, during which 650,000 school children were inoculated against polio, is over. According to the Foundation, however, the second phase of evaluating the epidemic and its aftermath will be enormously expensive.

The results of the tests, if the Emergency Drive is successful, will be known in early 1955. Other expenses of the Foundation include $28,700,000 as a minimum amount for patient care and $19,800,000 for continued polio research.

THE EMERGENCY March of Dimes campaign will be initiated on Aug. 16, and will continue through the 31st. Volunteers from local organizations will join in the appeal for contributions by canvassing local neighborhoods for donations. All phases of the campaign will be eyed to the theme "a dollar a famil.." Freed urged "every responsible citizen" to "give and help get" additional funds for the work of the Foundation.

If we could all realize what it's like to have polio" he added, "I'm sure the March of Dimes would have more money than it could use."

St. Lawrence Power Project Work To Begin

MASSENA, N. Y. (AP)—A blast of dynamite, touched off by New York Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, today signals the start of construction on the 600-million-dollar St. Lawrence power project.

In an oat field along the river bank at Polley's Bay, five miles outside Messena, New York and Canadian officials will gather for the ground-breaking ceremonies.

Within five years, vast dams and powerhouses will stretch across the river from that point to the Canadian shore, harnessing one of the world's mightiest inland bodies of water. Its yearly output of 13 billion kilowatt hours of electric power are to be shared by the United States and Canada.

Dewey, in a prepared speech, hailed the project as an example of international cooperation that will leave the free world "materially stronger, both physically and spiritually."

He also gave assurances that the plant, second largest dam project in North America and outranked only by Grand Coulee in Washington State, will not be too soon outmoded by atomic power plants.

Experts have advised the state that there is a real promise of atomic power for general consumption in the future, he said, but it will not compete with the low-cost St. Lawrence power for 30 years or more.

The Massena ground-breaking will be followed by similar ceremonies at Cornwall, Ont., where Canadian Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent will speak.

Mansfield Boy Wins Ten-Day Trip to Greece

DES MOINES (AP)—Martin O'Donnell, a tall 17-year-old from Boston, was named winner last night of the ninth international Knights of Pythias speaking contest.

O'Donnell was awarded a $1,500 scholarship certificate which he said he will apply toward the cost of an education at Massachusetts Institute of Technology, where he plans to study electrical engineering.

The contest was part of the Knights of Pythias annual convention here.

Other contestants receiving $250 scholarships included Oliver C. Henkel, 17, of Mansfield, Ohio.

Henkel also received a surprise award of a trip to Greece. The trip, awarded independently of the speaking contest, was the gift of Mrs. Elizabeth Heller, Merion, Pa., who said that four years ago she conceived the idea of encouraging American boys and girls to share their birthday gifts with youngsters in foreign lands.

Mrs. Heller said young Henkel will go to Greece as "children's ambassador" for 10 days during Christmas vacation.

The Pennsylvania woman, who has backed her "share your birthday" plan with her own money, spent the afternoon talking with the six contestants in the contest here. They didn't know the purpose of her visit with them until she announced selection of Henkel to make the trip.

Crawford Sheriff Investigates Theft Of Silver at Home

BUCYRUS — Sheriff Elwood Jacobs continued his investigation today of the theft of $500 in silver from the residence of W. Lavern Holmes, who lives two miles east of Bucyrus on State Route 98.

The sheriff said Holmes told him he believed the money was stolen Friday night while he was at work at the Mansfield Tire and Rubber Co.

Entrance apparently was gained from a window on the north side of the house. The money was taken from a trunk in a bedroom. It was in half dollars and one dollar coins, Holmes told the sheriff.

Two Marion Men Jailed in Colorado

Two Marion men have been sentenced to 8-25 year terms in the Colorado state penitentiary on robbery charges.

Don L. Swearinger, 30, and Harold E. Waits, 32, were sentenced Monday in Denver, Colo., after pleading guilty to the charges.

The men admitted the armed robbery of a tavern in Denver on June 26 in which they took $493. No charges were filed against their teen-age wives who were previously arrested. They were released.

A charge of bringing five revolvers taken in a Springfield, O. burglary to Colorado against the pair is still pending.

The two couples were picked up by Denver police at a motel there shortly after the holdup after a passerby had taken down the license number of a car he saw drive away from the tavern.

Both men have previously served Ohio prison sentences and had been married to their wives only weeks before the robbery.

Last Union Vet On His Toes in Foreign Affairs

DULUTH, Minn. (AP)—"Old Uncle Sam needs to be cool and calculating these days," the sole survivor of the Union forces in the Civil War said last night, shortly before a bronze bust of him was presented to his home town.

Albert Woolson, still sprightly and an eight cigars-a-day man at 107, talked about world conditions in an interview before the bust was presented to the Lake Superior port city of Duluth by the Sons of Union Veterans of the Civil War and its auxiliary. The organizations are holding their annual encampments here.

"You have got to work your way carefully in world affairs," Woolson said. "I think our President Eisenhower is doing that right now. He's a cautious man going very carefully.

"I don't think there's any danger of war at the present time—we are too well equipped. I don't think the Russians will venture into a war now. I think the Russian masses would be opposed to it.

"Force is wicked. If we want to keep the peace, the best way we can do it is to be strong."

Driver Slightly Injured in Only Accident in City

One person was slightly injured in the only traffic accident reported today by city police.

Robert A. Olson, 31, of New Bloomington, driver of one of the cars figuring in a two-car mishap Monday on State St., suffered a wrenched left shoulder. He was taken to City Hospital for treatment.

Cars driven by Olson and Gene Edward Ruth, 25, of near Caledonia were involved in the accident at State and Church Sts. yesterday at 3:55 p.m.

Police reports showed that the Ruth car, attempting a left turn onto Church from State, struck the Olson car in the front. The Olson car had been parked on the east side of State St. at Church and was headed across the intersection.

The front and left side of the Olson car was damaged and there was damage to the front and left side of the Ruth vehicle.

McCarthy

with evidence limited to that which the committee holds is relevant and most hearsay testimony barred.

"The testimony will have to be relevant," Watkins said. "It will have to be given by competent witnesses. We intend to conduct the hearings as a judicial inquiry."

Fulbright, who filed 6 of the 46 overlapping charges against McCarthy, said in an interview he doesn't want to "bog the committee down" in lengthy hearings.

The accusations, made by Fulbright and Senators Flanders (R-Vt) and Morse (Ind-Ore) during Senate debate on Flanders' move to censure McCarthy, cover a wide range of conduct allegedly unbecoming in a senator. They include a number dealing with the Wisconsin senator's controversial "Red-hunting methods.

Fulbright said he would be satisfied if some of them were consolidated, and he added:

"I think the issue is whether McCarthy has shown irresponsibility and heedlessness of established custom in his conduct. The committee should concentrate on taking evidence of his disregard for the whole orderly conduct of government and the Senate should vote on that issue."

Although some committee members have indicated they will vote against considering it, Fulbright said he is unwilling to drop a charge that McCarthy did not give "comparable value" for a $10,000 fee he received from Lustron Corp. for writing a housing pamphlet.

Whether the special committee would delve into the Lustron case or any other specific charge appeared to depend on the recommendations of a corps of three lawyer researchers.

Committee members said the lawyers, to be named by Watkins with daily pay at the rate of $11,800 a year, will be asked to sift the charges to find which were substantial and grounds for censure if proved.

One committee member, declining to be quoted by name, said the group had decided that "quite a number of the charges, even if true, would not be grounds for censure." He declined to single out any.

STATE CONVENTION SET

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Eugene H. Hanhart, chairman of the Democratic State Executive Committee, said today the Democratic state convention will be held here Sept. 28. Morning, afternoon and evening sessions are scheduled for the one-day program. The keynote speaker will be announced later, Hanhart said.

An average of 66 railroad tank cars were loaded every hour during 1953 in the United States.

Jelke Reported Wed To Model

In Seclusion While Awaiting Court Action

NEW YORK (AP) — Minot F. (Mickey) Jelke has reportedly married and settled down to a domestic life in the Bronx while awaiting outcome of the state's efforts to make his vice conviction stick.

The bride is identified as Sylvia Eder, 25, the blonde model who was in Jelke's apartment two years ago when he was arrested there and held for trial on compulsory prostitution charges. The couple are said to have married in Georgia six weeks ago.

New York newspapers quoted friends as saying the newlyweds were living a quiet life in a four-room Bronx apartment. Their address as not given, however, and neither Jelke, his reported bride nor her parents could be reached for comment.

Jelke, 23-year-old heir to an oleomargarine fortune, was convicted of pandering after a sensational trial, part of which was closed to the press and public. The appellate division of the state supreme court later upset this conviction, saying the judge erred in closing the trial during presentation of the prosecution's case.

Jelke is free on bail while the state carries the case to the Court of Appeals in an attempt to have this reversal ruled out. If the reversal stands, Jelke will be entitled to a new trial.

Miss Eder was arrested with Jelke and held for a time as a material witness. She was later released, however, and took no part in the trial. The state's star witness in the case was Pat Ward, a confessed prostitute.

Sheppard

be settled before the hearing can go forward.

Under Story's plan, the preliminary hearing would be skipped and the case taken directly to the grand jury. This is a permissable procedure.

Coroner Samuel R. Gerber said furniture and other articles removed yesterday from the Sheppard home in Bay Village was for reconstruction in court of "sections" of the murder room.

Blamed on Intruder

Dr. Sheppard contends an intruder entered the bedroom of his wife, Marilyn, 31, and inflicted the 27 facial wounds that caused her death.

He grappled with the "intruder" and sustained head injuries while fighting, Dr. Sheppard has said.

Confiscated by the coroner were the blood - stained mattress on which Mrs. Sheppard's body was found, and the box springs, bedstead and slats of the twin bed.

The couch on which Sheppard said he was dozing when he heard his wife scream, also was taken, along with his brown jacket found folded on the couch.

Wrapped in paper and cellophane by workmen were the bedroom door and closet door, taken off their hinges and carted away.

Also taken into custody were a braided rug from the bottom of the stairs leading to the bedroom, a linoleum mat, swivel chairs, a leather lounge chair and a desk lamp from the osteopath's study, and a rocking chair from the bedroom.

Clothing Taken, Too

Shorts and other clothing of the dead woman found on the rocking chair also were removed.

Two court appearances by Sheppard scheduled for yesterday have been postponed.

He was to have appeared at a hearing on an affidavit of prejudice filed by defense attorney William J. Corrigan. But Corrigan, asking time to subpena witnesses, obtained a continuance until Thursday from Common Pleas Judge Frank J. Merrick.

The affidavit charges prejudice on the part of Bay Village Council President Gershom M. M. Barber, who was to preside at a preliminary hearing on the murder charge, also scheduled for yesterday.

Barber, who issued the murder warrant for Sheppard, indicated the preliminary hearing might take place Thursday also, if Judge Merrick denies the affidavit.

only "the obstinacy of the United States can be circumvented.

Others in Group

Attlee's group, in addition to Bevan, includes party Secretary Morgan Phillips, Mine Workers' leader Sam Watson, former National Insurance Minister Edith Summerskill, former Asst. Postmaster General Wilfrid Burke, Harry Earnshaw and Herbert Franklin.

The party will leave here tomorrow night for Peiping. They plan to spend about three weeks in Red China. En route home they will visit Hong Kong, Singapore, Australia, New Zealand and Canada.

Departing from London airport yesterday, Attlee emphasized that the party were not official representatives of Prime Minister Churchill's government. The group said their mission was to improve relations with Red China.

Attendance at Tent Services Is Good

Good attendance at tent services in Garfield Park sponsored the Maranatha Bible Church is reported by the church pastor, Rev. Earl L. Holliday. Besides the audiences in the tent, numbers have heard the music and preaching through the amplifier system while sitting in cars in the park area, he said.

Evangelist for the meetings is Rev. Charles Gray of Dennison who is conducting his fifth annual series of services for Rev. Holliday. The special singer is Rev. George Zinn from Moody Bible Institute at Chicago, Ill. Sermon topics this week will include "The Tactics of Satan," "Seven Things God Hates," "When God Shuts the Door," and "The Greatest Preacher in the World." Mrs. Gray is assisting with the services and instrumental music.

Featured during the campaign which will continue through Labor Day will be religious films including productions starring the Billy Graham evangelistic party and Moody Bible Institute pictures.

Scheduled for Saturday night is "Mr. Texas," called the "world's first Christian western," and the first major production of Billy Graham Evangelistic Films, Inc. Other pictures will be shown on succeeding Saturday nights.

Farm Bill

during a session of more than 10 hours yesterday:

1. A 49-44 vote in favor of flexible farm price supports between 82½ and 90 per cent of parity on cotton, wheat, corn, rice and peanuts for next year. This is the same compromise voted by the House in what President Eisenhower termed a satisfactory victory. The President had recommended originally flexible supports ranging from 75 to 90 per cent of parity, a legal standard said to give a farm product a fair price in relation to growers's costs.

2. A 49-43 vote that would give Secretary of Agriculture Benson authority to continue price supports on such dairy products as butter and cheese at the reduced level of 75 per cent of parity. This was below the 80 per cent level effective Sept. 1, voted by the House and the 85 per cent recommended 8-7 by the Senate Agriculture Committee.

First Polio Case Reported Here

Melody Crissinger, 2½, In University Hospital

First case of polio in the city and county was reported today by Dr. M. M. Wombaum, city health commissioner.

Victim was Melody Ann Crissinger, two and one-half year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Crissinger of 597 Silver St.

She was taken to Children's Hospital in Columbus yesterday afternoon where her illness was diagnosed as polio.

First symptoms of the disease were noted Friday, the city health office, which received the polio report late yesterday afternoon, said.

The home has been quarantined and a three and one-half year old sister, Marsha Lynn, was to be given gamma globulin shots today.

Hoover Back In Home Town For Accolade

WEST BRANCH, Iowa (AP)—Former President Hoover returned today to the white clapboard cottage in West Branch where he was born to receive a round of official honors celebrating his 80th birthday and to deliver a major speech on foreign and domestic policies.

West Branch—population 769—bedecked itself with flags and banners, loaded up with fried chicken and potato salad, nailed untamish'r "one-way street" signs to the trees and light poles and happily prepared for an expected army of 50,000 visitors.

Sons With Him

Hoover's sons Herbert Jr. and Allan and their families were with him. The delegation of Iowans meeting him included Gov. William S. Beardley, Dr. James H. Hilton, president of Iowa State College; Virgil M. Hancher, president of the University of Iowa and other officials.

Vice President Nixon, originally scheduled to represent President Eisenhower, telegraphed his regrets last night that he would not be able to attend because of close votes on farm legislation scheduled today.

Wilbur M. Brucker, representing the Department of Defense, will speak in Nixon's place.

Hoover himself is the main speaker.

Foreign Policy

His prepared address was largely devoted to the 20-year period between the end of his own administration in 1932 and the election of Dwight D. Eisenhower. Much of it discussed the foreign policies pursued during those years by the United States—especially with respect to Soviet Russia.

Other major sections set forth Hoover's views on what he called "Socialism" and on his contention that the original pattern of American government—the separation of powers between the three main branches—have suffered dangerous changes.

County Man Fined $50 For Off-Season Hunting

A missed squirrel cost a Marion County man more than the shell Monday evening. He made the mistake of shooting at the squirrel while three state game protection officials were nearby.

John Waters, county game protector, made the arrest of Cecil Perry of near Marion. Perry was charged with hunting squirrels out of season and fined $50 and costs in Municipal Court today.

Assisting Waters in the arrest were Wayne Kinsley and Harold Green. They discovered the man hunting in a field near the Pleasant Township School.

Waters issued a warning today to hunters in the area to wait until the season opens before trying to prove their skill.

kidnaping, which he said was a hoax engineered by Factor to forestall his extradition to England to face prosecution for a confidence game charge.

Factor, starting in 1942, served six years of a 10-year federal sentence for a million dollar whisky warehouse receipts fraud.

Perjured Testimony

Judge Barnes, in granting Touhy a writ of habeas corpus, said the one-time beer baron's conviction was procured by perjured testimony. He said Circuit Judge Thomas A. Courtney, who was state's attorney at the time of Touhy's kidnaping trial, "Must be held responsible for the actions of chief investigator Daniel A. Gilbert in causing perjured testimony to be presented to the jury that convicted Roger Touhy."

Touhy, tears in his eyes, told reporters he plans to leave Chicago and start a business turning out a fishing tackle on which he said he has applied for a patent.

He said he holds no grudge against anyone for his long confinement.

"They have their consciences to live with," he said.

Wynn To Face Garver as Cleveland Opens in Detroit

Yanks Meet Philadelphia Four Times

DETROIT (AP) — If turnabout is fair play, that four-game American League lead held by Cleveland Indians isn't so fat after all.

For it was the Detroit Tigers, against whom the Tribe opens a three-game series tonight, who whipped the second-place New York Yankees twice over the weekend while Cleveland was taking four victories from the Philadelphia Athletics.

The Yankees, meanwhile, are starting a four-game series with the A's.

Figure what happens to the lead should Cleveland, too, suffer defeat at the hands of the Tigers and New York enjoy four triumphs from the A's.

Cleveland Manager Al Lopez, far from underestimating the pitfalls of a visit to Detroit, has saved for the series the talents of his big three pitching staff—Early Wynn, Mike Garcia and Bob Lemon. If everything goes according to plan, this will be the first series pitched exclusively by said big three in more than six weeks. First Lemon was sidelined with a side injury then Garcia was out because of an injured finger and the death of his father.

Wynn is expected to go against Ned Garver tonight. Garcia against Steve Gromek tomorrow and Lemon against George Zuverink Thursday.

College Stars Given Chance Against Lions

CHICAGO (AP)—There is growing belief that the College All-Stars might meet with success Friday night against the professional champion Detroit Lions with a passing attack equalling anything ever seen in the last 20 years of the football classic.

A crowd of about 90,000 will pack into huge Soldier Field to watch the graduated collegians attempt to grab their first victory over the National Football League champions since 1950 and their seventh in the series. The game will be televised (Dumont) and broadcast (Mutual) nationally starting at 8:30 p. m. EST.

The pros have won 12 times and two games were tied.

The All Stars always have been their best against the pros when their squads were led by great passers. Otto Graham's toss to Elroy Hirsch for a touchdown was the key play in the All-Stars' 16-0 victory over the Los Angeles Rams in 1946. Sammy Baugh's scoring shot to Gaynell Tinsley defeated Green Bay 6-0 in 1937.

Not since some of those days of All-Star prosperity has a squad like the current one been equipped with passers comparable to the pros themselves.

Quarterbacks Zeke Bratkowski of Georgia; Bobby Garrett Stanford, Colton Davidson, Baylor; Lamar McHan, Arkansas and Vince Dooley, Auburn, are the best passers as a group ever to represent the All Stars.

Dayton Amateur Wins Cincinnati Golf Crown

CINCINNATI (AP) — Pat Schwab, who could not take the city golf title in his own city of Dayton annexed the Queen City Open crown yesterday in Cincinnati.

Schwab, 21-year-old amateur, knocked six off par over 36 holes of medal play with 66-70—136, three strokes better than pro Clay Gaddis of Cincinnati.

Mack Plans Meeting on Sale of A's

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Roy Mack gets a chance to put his cards on the table today at a meeting with two wealthy Philadelphians seeking to buy the Philadelphia Athletics baseball team.

Harry Sylk, a drug chain executive, joins with financier Albert M. Greenfield in talks with the executive vice-president of the A's.

Sylk and Greenfield head a group of some 16 civic leaders seeking to keep the A's franchise from passing to out-of-town interests.

Arnold Johnson, a Chicago businessman, has offered to buy the team and move it to Kansas City. Estimates of Johnson's offer have ranged as high as 4½ million dollars.

Sylk said he didn't believe Johnson had offered that much for the team, adding: "We're prepared to make a fair offer for the Athletics, not a fantastic one." Sylk said he expects a full financial report from Roy at today's meeting.

Roy, his brother and partner, Earle, and their dad, Connie Mack, Sr., are neck-deep in financial troubles. After 5 years of operating the Athletics, the family faces: sale of the club or possible bankruptcy. Earle says there isn't a dime in the till and the Macks are done in Philadelphia.

The answer to the A's 'stay or move" problem rests with Roy who has an option to buy stock owned by Earle and Connie, Sr. They have said they want to sell their shares. Roy says he wants to retain control of the club or make some deal to stay in baseball.

Sylk originally said if he bought the club, he would want complete control but yesterday indicated that if Roy wants to stay as a minority stockholder and a member of the board of directors, that might be arranged.

Rookie To Receive Chance at Fullback In Browns Game

HIRAM, Ohio (AP) — Because a couple of his competitors are injured, Dale Atkeson of Lomita, Calif., probably will get his chance to perform at fullback when the Cleveland Browns play an intrasquad game at Massillon next Saturday night.

A 210-pounder who played two years with the San Diego Naval eleven, Atkeson has been somewhat overshadowed at the Browns training camp here by the fullback proficiency of Marion Motley, Maurice Bassett and Fred Morrison.

But Motley hurt a knee in last Saturday's scrimmage and Bassett is laid up with a shoulder separation he suffered last Thursday. So unless one of them recovers sooner than is expected, Atkeson and Morison will fill the power roles in Saturday's game.

Sportsman Car Races Planned for Richwood

Sportsman type stock car racing is again being offered tonight at the Richwood Speedway.

Top drivers of the district are expected to be on hand for the seven-event program. Paul Hooper of Marion, Jay L. Jones of Richwood and Jun Umsted of Belle Center will be there for the three ten-lap heat races, 10-lap winners handicap, two 10-lap consolation races and 25-lap feature.

Action on the race track at the Richwood Fairgrounds will begin at 8:30 p.m.

ENTER BASEBALL'S HALL OF FAME. Former Yankee catcher Bill Dickey (left) and former New York Giants' manager Bill Terry hold plaques that were unveiled in their honor at ceremonies at Cooperstown, N. Y., in the National Baseball Hall of Fame. They were the only two present of nine players who entered the Hall of Fame.

Terry Chosen for Hall, Reminisces on Baseball

By JACK HAND
For Gayle Talbot

COOPERSTOWN, N. Y. (AP)—When Bill Terry played ball and managed the New York Giants, they used to say he was the "what's in it for me" type. Maybe he was. But old Memphis Bill, at 55, has mellowed.

He was back at Cooperstown yesterday to accept in person his election to baseball's Hall of Fame and ackled to death to be present.

"At first I used to get a little disgusted at the way they took personalities into consideration," he admitted. "It got so I almost didn't care if I ever did get elected. When I was named I had to sit down and think it out and realize what it really meant. I don't know of anything more important that has happened to me."

Terry, of course, had his worst feuds with the writers after he succeeded John McGraw as manager of the Giants. There are some alive, who, to this very day, wil not say a kind word about him.

"If I had it to do all over again, I wouldn't do anything different," he said. "I had a good ball club all the time. They thought a lot of me and I thought a lot of them. I did things for them and they for me.

"Maybe there is one thing I'd do different," he said. "I probably would have gone to Cleveland when I had the opportunity, before I signed my last five-year contract with the Giants. If I had gone to Cleveland, I probably still would be in baseball."

Did the last .400 hitter in the National League ever have a hankering to return to the game?

"Definitely yes. But I probably never will. Every time I start talking about it my wife, two sons and daughter start screaming. I was offered two shots at Brooklyn — last year and the year before Charles (Dressen) took the job.

"Years ago I had another opportunity in Chicago with the Cubs and I almost bought the Pittsburgh club for 1¼ million dollars, had the money and all, before McKinney and Galbreath bought it."

"I'm ashamed to say I seldom see a ball game any more, just the World Series. I did see the playoff game in which Bobby Thomson hit the home run in '51. One reason is because I don't like night ball. I think it would be a grand idea to start playing a little more in the daytime."

How about his famous crack "Is Brooklyn still in the league?" Is that dead?

"I seldom go a month without having it brought up to me. Everybody says they beat us out of the pennant that year but I always thought we beat ourselves. I'd like to have that one to play over again."

One final question, Mr. Terry: are the Giants going to make it?

"I think they will. But if Thomson could get back in regular Milwaukee could get back in there."

He didn't even mention Brooklyn.

Alloy and VFW Notch Wins in Pony Contests

Alloy and VFW turned in Pony League victories last night at Lincoln Park.

In a pair of shutouts, Alloy blanked Clark Metal, 11-0, and VFW whitewashed G & G Homes, first round Pony League pennant winner, 4-0.

Everett Rice hurled the shutout for Alloy, which tied for the first round Pony League title with G & G but lost Saturday night in a play-off tilt. Rice allowed only three hits while fanning eight. He walked two and hit a batter.

The winners accounted for the lopsided win with a run in the opening frame, one in the second, three in the third, two in the sixth and four in the seventh.

Mike Glasco was the Clark Metal hurler. He surrendered six hits to the winners while fanning 13 and walking seven. His teammates were charged with six miscues.

Dave Thomas and Rice both clouted triples for the winners while Armbuster, Joe Ambrose, Bill Robbins and Roger Bartz added hits. Dick Penry had two hits for the losers while Ross Morbitt collected the other.

Steven Flesher was author of the shutout over G & G Homes. The VFW hurler gave up only two hits.

Two runs in the second and two more in the fifth were all that he needed for the victory. The winners banged out seven hits off two G & G Hurlers. Jim Anspaugh was the starter and Bob Middleton came on in the fifth.

Reds Beaten By Yanks in Fame Game

CINCINNATI (AP)—One far of the Cincinnati Reds mused today that things are getting so bad "the Reds can't even beat the New York Yankees."

The Yanks overcame a six-run deficit in the ninth inning yesterday to trim the Reds 10-9 in the 13th Hall of Fame exhibition game at Cooperstown, N. Y.

Cincinnati errors by Jim Greengrass, who dropped a fly ball with two out and Ed Bailey, who threw past first base, aided the Yank rally.

Doubles by Nino Escalera and Wally Post and a triple by Roy McMillan highlighted a five-run uprising by the Reds in the third inning. The Reds added four more in the fourth when Ralph Branca, the Yankee starter, walked in one run and then relief pitcher Harry Perkowski doubled in three more.

Tonight the Cincinnatians start a brief home stand. Chicago is the foe tonight, tomorrow and Thursday. St. Louis comes into Crosley Field for three games Friday, Saturday night and Sunday. Then the Reds start west.

Prospect Event Won by Lauer

Steve Lauer won the annual Sextathlon of the Prospect playground Saturday as activities for the year came to a close.

Lauer won the event, made up of a 50-yard dash, high jump, eight-pound shot put, broad jump, base circling and low hurdling over low park benches by sweeping every event.

Lauer, a ninth grader, won the Sextathlon with a perfect score of six points. Lary Ball, a ninth grader, was second with 19 points. Then came Tom Rodgers, eighth grader, with 22½ points. Tim Hickman, eighth grader, with 24. Dick Keller, seventh grader, with 29½, and Lance Pearch, ninth grader, with 36.

Participants received points according to the position in which they finished each event and the leading winners were determined by the fewest number of points chalked up against the competitors. Medals were awarded to the top six performers.

Washington Edges Leesville in Central Game; Shelby Wins

New Washington and Shelby were winners Sunday in North Central Ohio Baseball League activity.

New Washington scored an eighth-inning run to nip Leesville 1-0, and Shelby scored in five separate frames to whip West Salem, 13-5.

T. Ehrman was the winning hurler for New Washington. He struck out nine and gave up five hits.

Shelby knocked out three home runs in its win as Cassell won on a 10-hitter. He struck out six. The losing West Salem club enjoyed a 4-2 lead but Shelby scored four runs in the fourth to move ahead to stay.

Brooklyn Fails To Threaten Despite Giants 'Cooling Off'

By BEN PHLEGAR
Associated Press Sportswriter

New York made its move early. Milwaukee went into high gear late last month. The question now is: Are the Dodgers ever going to start cooling?

Brooklyn's task is unchanged. The same team that pulled away from the pack last August has finished 15 games in front. But it's been a tough season. Boys aren't hitting anything like the 1953 aggregation.

The door to the top has been left wide open in recent weeks by the first place Giants. After their June surge the New Yorkers have looked along at a 19-16 clip since the traditional July 4 turning point.

But the Dodgers, who started by whipping Philadelphia on Independence Day, still are three full games behind. They've won 20 and lost 18 while the Braves have come with a 38-win-losing 24 and losing 10 to pull within 4½ games of Brooklyn and 7½ of the Giants.

Brooklyn hopes to get the answer to its vital starting pitcher problem tonight in Philadelphia. Manager Walt Alston has picked Johnny Podres to open a two-game series against the Phils.

This will be the second start for the southpaw since an appendix operation. He couldn't make it the first time, lasting only 3 2-3 innings against St. Louis last week.

Podres won seven games up to mid-June when he was sidelined. Last season as a rookie he had a 9-4 record.

Dodger supporters are quick to point out the bad year Roy Campanella is having. The big catcher trembled by an injured hand is 100 behind his 1953 total in runs batted in and more than 100 points below his batting average of last year.

But Campy mainly was just another cog in what already was the most powerful attack in the league, and his cohorts—Duke Snider, Carl Furillo, Jackie Robinson and Gil Hodges—are still doing all right by last year's standards.

The Dodgers would appear to have a slight break over the Braves and Giants on the remaining schedule. They have 21 games with first division clubs, 12 of them on Ebbets Field and they have 10 games left with the cellar dwellers. Last year Brooklyn beat Pittsburgh 20 times. This year the Dodgers share first with the Cubs at 9.

Milwaukee has the most games left, 47, and 16 are against the 25 The Braves also have the toughest assignment. Most of them—12—But they have to play 7 with St. Louis and the Cards have also have been tough for Milwaukee.

Nine games remain between the Giants and Dodgers six of them in Brooklyn. The Giants also have 12 left with Philadelphia and five with Milwaukee.

The Giants step off for a single game in Pittsburgh tonight and the Braves open a three-game set in St. Louis.

In the American League the New York Yankees, now four games back of Cleveland, start a string of 15 games on the second division foes by entertaining the Philadelphia Athletics. Cleveland goes to Boston and third place Chicago will be at home against Baltimore. The White Sox trail by seven.

In other action Chicago will be at Cincinnati tonight in the National League and Washington at Boston in the American for a day-night doubleheader.

Easterner, Writer Win Medal Honors In 'Lefty' Tourney

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—David Reidwin of South Orange, N. J., and Nelson Cullenward, golf writer for the San Francisco Call-Bulletin, won medal honors at Triangle with one above-par 72s in the qualifying round for the National Left Handers Golf tournament.

Double elimination rounds began today over the 6,723-yard par 36-35—71 Miami Valley course.

Baldwin, who won the New Jersey Open crown Sunday, is the man the pollsters believe will be the first lefthander to become a national golf champion. He strengthened their hopes of today winning the driving contest with a 289-yard poke.

Aussie Disputes Report

Doctor Says Landy Ran With 'Nasty Cut' on Foot

VANCOUVER B C #—Did John Landy Australia s premier miler run the "Miracle Mile of the British Empire Games here last Saturday with four stitches holding a deep cut in his right foot closed"

Landy who ran second to Dr Roger Bannister of England in the 'Miracle Mile said last night it wasn t so that it was completely and utterly silly for anybody to think he could run under those circumstances

But Dr Ken Young of the University of British Columbia health service said a member of his staff doctored a nasty gash on the sole of Landys foot Thursday Friday and Saturday

Joining the 'Landy had a bad foot club were Bannister Andy O Brien sports editor of the Montreal Star and Jack Sullivan sports editor for the Canadian Press

Bannister won the 'Miracle Mile in 3 58 8 some five yards ahead of Landy who had led most of the way Landy was timed in 3 59 6

O Brien broke the story in a copyrighted article in the Star yesterday He said Landy suffered the cut when he stepped from a shower onto a photographer s flash bulb

The Montreal reporter said Landy told him of the injury but swore him to secrecy because it would sound like an alibi

Landy promptly denied O Brien s report

It is utterly and completely silly to think that I or anybody could run with four stitches in the foot There is absolutely nothing to it

Late yesterday Dr Young told the Canadian Press through Sullivan

I did not treat Landy but a member of the faculty looked after him and we had instructions that no one was to know about it

I won t say that he had four stitches and I won t say that he did not have any stitches But he had a nasty cut

Sullivan came out with the flat statement that Landy ran the mile of the century .. with a cut right foot

Bannister contacted at Empire Village late last night said Landy told him a week ago of the cut but he kept right on training so it couldn t have been too serious

Jim Eve general manager of the Australian team termed the report pure bunk its ridiculous But he said he would have Landys foot inspected at the earliest opportunity

Crop Forecast To Show Effect Of Lack of Rain

Lower Estimate of Volume Anticipated Because of Drought

WASHINGTON (AP) — A government crop report prepared for release today (3 p. m. EDT) will given an idea of the extent the midwestern and western drought has cut into this year's farm production.

The report is the first official forecast of the season covering all crops and also the first to take into account damage caused this year by hot, dry weather in drought-plagued states.

Above Average

A month ago, the Department of Agriculture said it appeared that crop volume this year would be 102 per cent of the 1947-49 average despite restrictions imposed on cotton, wheat, peanuts, tobacco and corn to combat surplus problems. Last year's total yield was 103 per cent of the 1947-49 average.

But today's report seemed likely to lower the production estimate, especially for corn, soybeans, spring wheat, tobacco, hay and pastures, because of drought damage.

Nevertheless, there is no prospect of shortages from the standpoint of consumers. Large reserves of many crops accumulated from past big harvests are on hand. This year's losses would be felt almost solely by growers themselves.

Livestock Record

Regardless of how crops turn out, the department says it appears certain this year's production of livestock and livestock products—meats, milk and dairy products, wool, poultry and eggs—will set a record. The volume has been forecast at 19 per cent above the 1947-49 average compared with last year's 14 per cent above the average.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT ORDAINED by the Council of the City of Marion:

Section 1. That it is hereby declared necessary to issue the bonds of the City of Marion in the principal sum of $21,000.00 for the purpose of raising money, in anticipation of the collection of special assessments for the improving of Seffner Avenue by constructing therein a storm water and sanitary sewer with the necessary catch basins, manholes and laterals from Indiana Avenue to Mt. Vernon Avenue.

Section 2. That said bonds shall be dated approximately June 30, 1956, shall bear interest at the rate of 3½% per annum, payable semi-annually until the principal sum is paid, and shall mature in ten substantial equal semi-annual installments after their issuance.

Section 3. That for the purpose of raising money in anticipation of the levy of special assessments and in anticipation of the issuance of bonds in anticipation of the collection of special assessments for the improvement as aforesaid, in accordance with the legislation heretofore passed by the City of Marion's Council with respect thereto, to pay the property owner's share of the cost and expense of said respective improvement, it is hereby declared necessary to issue and there shall be issued notes of said City in the amount of $21,000.00, which shall be placed to the credit of the Special Improvement Fund.

The appropriation hereinabove made for said Street improvement is subject to the qualification that interest at the rate of 3½% per annum for the period prior to the collection of the first installment so to be levied shall be included in said amount, and the amount necessary to pay said interest is hereby appropriated for the payment thereof and for no other purpose.

Section 4. That such anticipatory notes in the amount aforesaid shall be issued bearing interest at the rate of 3½% per annum, payable semi-annually. Such notes shall be dated the 15th day of August, 1954, and shall mature on or before the 15th day of August, 1955. Such notes shall be executed and delivered in such number and such denominations as may be requested by the purchaser of such notes.

They shall be payable at the office of the City Treasurer, Marion, Ohio; they shall express upon their face the purpose for which they are issued and that they are issued pursuant to this Ordinance.

Section 6. All assessments collected for the improvements aforesaid and unexpended balances remaining in the funds after the costs and expenses of said improvements have been paid, shall be applied to the payment of said notes and the interest thereon until both are fully provided for.

Section 7. Said notes shall be first offered to the Sinking Fund Trustees of the City and so many of the same as shall not be taken by said trustees shall be sold at private sale by the City Auditor, but for not less than par and accrued interest, and the proceeds from such sale, except any premium and accrued interest thereon and the amount thereof necessary for the payment of interest prior to the maturity of said notes, shall be paid into the proper fund and used for the purpose aforesaid and for no other purpose. Effects of Dior's Decree On Business Pondered

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—Brassiere and corset manufacturers are taking a second look today at Parisian dressmakers' new ideas about the female figure.

Some are now saying there can be gold in flattening out those curves.

The exaggerated bosom and the pinched-in waist were a bonanza for the industry. But how many manufacturers in any industry that leans on fashion balked at a change?

Might Stimulate Buying

If the hour-glass look runs out, as Paris decrees, it might lead hordes of women to think they needed a new wardrobe—from the skin out.

At first the foundation garment—though a somewhat changed one — will still be necessary if the new duds catch on.

Some doubt that they will, however. They contend Paris may set the fashion for the comparatively few in the high-style world. But they say the mass market in this country usually follows the taste, if any, of the reigning Hollywood movie star. Present contenders for that title all tend toward the lush side.

"If the new style catches on, we can profit from it," one foundation garment expert says. "Bosoms will still be there. In the new styles they just aren't top heavy. . . .

"Word from Paris is that it will take new foundations to achieve the new silhouette. We'll have to learn to make them—and to sell them."

One selling point the industry spokesmen are sharpening up is that women's waists will be freer. The new foundation garments will let out some of the pinch in the middle. They will hold the hips more tightly—but make them look slimmer, less rounded.

"That's where most women have their trouble, anyway," another girdle fashioner says, "the present styles of pinching in the waist and accenting the hips makes some of them look a little unattractive."

Manufacturers doubt if the new fashion, supposing it catches on, shows up much in the stores before spring.

Buyers Are Cautious

Retail store buyers can bite a few nails in the meantime, pondering that situation. Manufacturers say that ordering of fall merchandize has been below normal. Stores are being cautious while they wait to see if all the pleasant predictions about an uplift—in business generally, that is—comes to pass in the fall.

Now they can wonder if the garments—inner and outer—that they are stocking will be considered old hat in a few months. Or whether—as a sizable number loudly contend—that American women will have nothing to do with a style that de-emphasizes glories which with time have been developed into something quite impressive.

And the men? First reaction was bitterly critical of anything tending to change sidewalk scenery.

But manufacturers who champion a change contend that men will find that the bosom line is only "higher, softer and more feminine."

The garment and textile industries have been looking for something to lead them out of their business slump. Who knows? Perhaps the gals, should they all rush to buy new outfits, will blaze the trail. Might even give the nation's economy a little nudge all on their own.

Air Force Asks Funds For Clinton County Base

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Air Force, in a last minute request, has asked Congress for $359,000 to build a taxiway at its Clinton County, Ohio, base.

The money would finance 44,900 square yards of taxi access pavement to the end of the runway at the all-weather research airport.

The request was disclosed in testimony made public yesterday by a House Appropriations Subcommittee.

An Air Force officer said construction probably would start in the fall if Congress agrees to appropriate the money.

Eastern Section Of U.S. Route 40 Will Be Improved

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The eastern end of U. S. 40, which runs through Ohio from West Virginia to Indiana, in the next few years will get a 24 million dollar facelifting, the state highway department disclosed today.

The 21.6 mile section from near Morristown in Belmont County to the Ohio River is called "the most critical stretch" by the department's assistant director and chief engineer, L. F. Schaeublin.

The project will include bypass of St. Clairsville and eliminate numerous curves, says Schaeublin.

The department itself will prepare engineering studies of the longest portion of the project, some 16.8 miles from east to Morristown to Blaine. The department is negotiating with the consulting engineering firm of Howard Needles, Tammen and Bergendoff of Kansas City to prepare engineering studies of the other section.

Part of the project consists of connections at Bridgeport with Ohio 7 and U.S. 250, north-south highways.

Whether a new bridge over the Ohio River will fit into the picture is not known now, says Schaeublin. West Virginia has built the substructure of a bridge to Wheeling Island in the middle of the river, but Schaeublin says he understands that state will not be able to finish the bridge for 10 years. Wheeling, W. Va., is across the river.

McKee suffered a bruised left knee and chest, but required no treatment.

Provisions of New Tax Law

Farm's Conservation Costs Deductible

By CHARLES F. BARRETT

WASHINGTON (AP)—A farmer can now get a tax cut by building himself a pond . . . or digging a ditch.

This is one of the special effects of the huge new tax revision law. In passing out scores of tax benefits, Congress didn't forget the farmer in this congressional election year.

Seventh of a Series

The law permits a farmer to deduct from his income, on tax returns, many outlays for soil or water conservation. Even at the minimum 20 per cent tax rate, each $100 in new deductions mean a tax cut of $20.

The deductions for that purpose are limited in any one year to 25 per cent of the taxpayer's gross income from farming. Note that if you have income aside from farming, you can't deduct 25 per cent of your total income.

IF YOU SPEND more than 25 per cent of your farm income for soil or water conservation in any one year, you can carry forward the amount over 25 per cent and deduct it on your return the next year. You can keep on carrying these expenditures forward as many years as needed to get your full deduction—but you still can't deduct more than 25 per cent of farm income in any one year.

Soil and water conservation expenses involve moving or treating dirt. They can include such things as leveling, grading, terracing, contour furrowing, construction of diversion channels, drainage ditches, controlling and protecting watercourses, ponds, earthen dams, elimination of brush or planting of windbreaks.

In the past, expenditures for most of these things generally have been added for tax purposes to the original cost of the land. Usually no deduction was allowed for them unless the land was sold. Then they could be counted in figuring whether you made a profit on the sale.

Experts believe half a million farmers will claim new deductions under the new law. They figure the farmers will get tax cuts amounting to 10 million dollars. The revenue loss would be greater, except that some farmers pay little or no income tax already.

ASIDE FROM his personal expenditures, the law permits a farmer to deuct special assessments by soil and water conservation districts if they are spent for purposes which would be deductible on the farmer's individual return.

A farmer can deduct expenses starting last Jan. 1. But he must decide, in the first year he pays for such things, whether he wants to deduct them or still follow the old law. Once he reports his decision, he can't change his method without permission from the revenue service.

Another tax benefit for farmers in the new law provides that proceeds from sale or exchange of diseased livestock are not taxed if they are reinvested in livestock within one year.

Farmers also pay no tax on proceeds from sale of land necessary to meet acreage limitations under the reclamation laws, provided they invest the proceeds into more land—presumable in another reclamation or irrigation district.

IT'S DRY DOWN ON THE FARM. Beatrice Beal brings in the cow at milking time on their farm near Columbia, Mo., driving the animal down the bank of a dried up pond which has been parched by a searing sun and prolonged dry weather. A diving board stands high above the waterless bottom of the pond. Severe drought conditions prevail in Missouri, one of the states recently declared eligible for emergency relief.

Coronation Comes Off Fine, Except for Absence of Crown

BEDFORD, Va. (AP)—The crowning of Miss Mary Babb Venable as queen of Bedford County's bicentennial celebration went off just fine here yesterday, except for one little thing.

Brig. Gen. William M. Stokes Jr., commander of the 8th Infantry Division, was to have done the honors at the coronation.

At the appointed moment, Stokes arose and looked to an assistant, expecting to be handed the crown.

The assistant looked blank.

The master of ceremonies, Charles Green, looked embarrassed.

Sorry, said Green, he had left the crown at home.

The general made like he was placing a crown on Miss Venable's brunette locks, proclaimed her queen, and the 10,000 spectators cheered.

It's McCarthy and Cohn —But Not Joe and Roy

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP)—Rumors spread rapidly in the West Virginia capital yesterday that Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) and Roy Cohn were to stop over on a flight through Charleston.

After airlines officials confirmed that the names McCarthy and Cohn were on the passenger list, newspaper reporters and television cameramen hurried to the airport.

When the plane landed, they scrambled up the steps and searched out their quarry, only to find that another Mr. McCarthy and Mr. Cohn were traveling together—bearing no resemblance to the Wisconsin senator and his associate.

Fire Hydrant Catches Fire in Lancaster, O.

LANCASTER, Ohio (AP)—A fire hydrant caught on fire yesterday. Firemen said a passing pedestrian striking a match on the hydrant ignited natural gas fumes which had seeped into it. After putting out the fire, firemen placed a "No smoking" sign on the water pipe.

FALSE TEETH That Loosen Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Holds false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get FASTEETH at any drug counter.

He Can Cross-Examine

McCarthy Probe Rules Pose 2nd 'Donnybrook'

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON, (AP)—First reaction to the news that Sen. McCarthy will be allowed to cross-examine witnesses in the new Senate investigation of him may have been: "Here we go again."

But it is too soon to say whether the new hearings, on charges of unbecoming official conduct against the Wisconsin Republican, will be a repetition of the recently finished Senate investigation into his fight with Army officials.

Sen. Watkins (R-Utah), chairman of the six-man Senate committee which will conduct these new hearings, said they will start Aug. 30. But his committee still has a lot of clarifying to do before the public knows what to expect.

Rules Not Complete

The committee, appointed last week, has already laid down a few rules for its investigation, but not a full set of rules.

In the McCarthy-Army hearings, McCarthy was also given the privilege of cross-examining witnesses and he employed it in memorable fashion. Those hearings lasted for 36 days.

Because the seven Senators who handled that investigation laid down such loose rules, McCarthy could interrupt them and the proceedings repeatedly with: "Point of order."

McCarthy, the dominant figure throughout those hearings, was able to create diversions, such as with his call to government employes to provide him with secrets from the executive department. One of the charges against him now is that call.

Only this much is clear about the new hearings:

1. They will be open to the public and reporters from the press.

2. They will not be televised or broadcast on radio.

3. McCarthy may cross-examine witnesses.

4. Watkins said they will be conducted like a federal court trial.

But it isn't known yet who will really handle the hearings: Watkins and the five other senators on his committee or a special counsel to do the examining as Ray H. Jenkins, a Tennessee lawyer hired for the job, did in the Army-McCarthy case.

Needs Counsel, Staff

Watkins said last night a chief counsel will be needed, plus a staff. But he was vague on just what role this counsel will play when the new hearings begin.

In the McCarthy-Army hearings McCarthy was allowed to cross-examine the Army witnesses. And they were allowed, through their special counsel Joseph N. Welch, to cross-examine McCarthy and his staff. In addition, Jenkins and the senators on that investigating committee cross-examined both sides.

But while Watkins said McCarthy will be permitted to cross-examine witnesses against him in this case, too, so far there is no indication Watkins' committee intends to let witnesses against McCarthy cross-examine him or his witnesses.

Which brings up a main point. Just who — if any — will be witnesses against McCarthy? Watkins said last night he didn't know that either, that that's a problem to be ironed out.

Sen. Flanders (R-Vt) had asked the Senate to censure McCarthy. But that body decided to set up a special committee to investigate charges against McCarthy and report back on whether censure was justified, with the understanding there could be no vote for or against censure until that report was made.

Flanders and Senators Fulbright (D-Ark) and Morse (Ind-Ore) then made 46 charges against McCarthy for the special committee to examine.

But Watkins says hearsay evidence will not be admitted at the hearings and that he didn't expect Flanders, Fulbright or Morse to be called unless they had personal knowledge of the basis of the charges and could testify with supporting evidence, as in court.

Many, perhaps most, of their charges were based not on personal knowledge but on previous information, alleged or real, produced in other Senate investigations of McCarthy or by him.

It still isn't settled how many of the 46 charges will be investigated, either. The picture should be clearer before the hearings begin.

March of Dimes Drive Scheduled in Morrow

MOUNT GILEAD — Harold McCamman, chairman of the Morrow Count Infantile Paralysis Association has announced plans for the emergency March of Dimes drive to be held in the county from Aug 16-31.

Mrs. Hilda Riggs, Morrow County auditor and chairman of the regular fund drive held the latter part of January, will head the special fund drive. Approximately 1,000 envelopes asking for donations have been mailed out. Special benefits, bake sales and other fund raising activities will be held in different communities, McCamman said. A Mothers' March on Polio is not planned at this time, McCamman said.

The local chapter is heavily in debt and has been forced to borrow funds from the national chapter. A total of $5 137 11 was raised in the drive earlier this year but more funds are urgently needed, McCamman said.

Los Angeles Police Foil Extortion Plot

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Mrs. Maude Christiansen's stolen antiques, which she values at $5,000, are still missing but police are holding a man who, they say, tried to capitalize on her loss.

Mrs. Christiansen said she got a phone call yesterday from a man who said:

"Meet me in the Pacific Electric station at 1 p.m. Wear a red rose so I'll know you. Bring $250 in a manila envelope and I'll tell you where your antiques are."

Mrs. Christiansen notified police and kept the date. Officers arrested a man who approached her and booked him on suspicion of extortion. They identified him as Joseph A. Swafford, 34, of Portland, Ore., an ex-convict, and quoted him as saying concerning the antiques:

"Naw, I didn't take them. Haven't any idea who did. I just thought this might be a good way to pick up a fast $250."

BUCYRUS PLAYS SLATED

BUCYRUS — Bucyrus Little Theater members will present three plays during the 1954-55 season, organization officers announced today. The scheduled plays are two comedies, "My Sister Eileen" and "Lo and Behold," and a drama, "Our Town." Castings for the first production, "My Sister Eileen," will be held in the Little Theater building on Monday and Tuesday nights, Aug. 16-17. The play will be under the direction of Mrs. Harley Mollencop.

Change Suggested In Turnpike Route Near Dayton Area

COLUMBUS Ohio (AP)—The executive director of the Montgomery County Planning Commission A E Suro suggested today the tentative route of the proposed North South turnpike be changed slightly so it would not cut off the suburb of Centerville from Dayton

Suro told State Highway Director Samuel O Linzell and consulting engineers who drew the tentative turnpike route that Dayton is growing mostly to the south Centerville is about 12 miles from Dayton and is composed of expensive new homes

The Cincinnati to Conneaut turnpike as tentatively routed would run between that suburb and Dayton

Suro would change the route by running it along the Montgomery Greene County line to the south of Centerville

Planners from Montgomery and Greene counties give their views this morning and those from Ashtabula and Lake counties will meet here this afternoon For the rest of the week other community leaders of areas in which the turnpike will run are to meet with highway officials to discuss the turnpike affect on their communities

No Striving for Effect

There is significant agreement on one point in the six-man committee to handle the resolution of censure against Sen. McCarthy.

The senators who will try to compose one of the sharpest differences that has disturbed the U. S. Senate in a generation want to keep their deliberations under their own control. They do not want either themselves or their witnesses to get into show business.

Therefore, they will permit no on-the-scene coverage by radio or television. The six senators — and the Senate as a whole — have had a chance to reach their conclusions about the Army-McCarthy hearings, and this is their judgment.

This reflects no discredit on either radio or television. It merely reflects a point of view about what happens when men and women begin to strive for an effect in the course of striving to arrive at the truth. The difference between direct coverage of the kind that bemused both the public and the participants during the Army-McCarthy hearings and indirect coverage of the kind that lets the public know what is happening through the eyes and ears of trained observers is substantial.

Members of Congress now know that when men are striving to get at the truth they should not let themselves be distracted by striving for an effect. In the Army-McCarthy hearings, there was a great deal of striving for effect. There will be no more of that in the forthcoming investigation of the circumstances behind the resolution of censure against Sen. McCarthy.

Sunset for Colonialism

The chances are the reader never heard of Pondicherry and Karikal, port cities in India. The chances are now there will be no occasion for readers ever to hear of them, because France has let it be known they will be turned back to India. They were the last remnants of French colonialism in India.

The main remnant of French colonialism in Asia as a whole was Indochina which France tried to hold on to unwisely and not well. It could have profited by the example of Great Britain, which knew when to get out of India and more recently has known when to get out of Suez. While there are some who interpret every retreat from colonialism as a surrender to the Kremlin, whose trouble-makers undoubtedly have made the most of native resentment of colonialism, there is another interpretation that makes more sense. There is a trie to withdraw from an indefensible position.

The sun has set on the British empire. It now shines on the British commonwealth. Colonialism is through. The "white man's burden" has been lifted from his shoulders even though he has not given it up without a struggle. The source of a deep embarrassment between the United States and its European allies is being rapidly eliminated.

The United States has been committed in its declaration of policy throughout the 20th century to anti-colonialism. Its views on self-determination are known throughout the world. But the conflict between its views and the views of its colony-holding allies has been obvious, and it has been embarrassing. To the extent that colonialism is being eliminated as a cause of friction in the world, the prestige of the United States as the leader of the freedom bloc is being increased.

Eventually, there will be only one nation opposed to the right of self-determination for all people—the Soviet Union, whose despotic rulers seek to exploit the entire world.

Mechanical Whatzit

One of the problems in running a mile in less than four minutes, according to John Landy of Australia whose 3:59.6 mile at Vancouver last weekend was bettered by Roger Bannister's 3:58.8 mile, is to find a pace-setter.

Landy thinks he could whittle his time to 3:57 flat, if he could find someone fast enough to catch. In his race against Bannister, he himself played the role of "mechanical rabbit," setting the pace for three laps.

If the role could be reversed, with Bannister playing the rabbit and Landy playing the hound, Landy very well might be drawn into a performance that would outdo his fondest expectations. There should be a way to solve this problem for the less-than-four-minute milers who will be sprinting in the footsteps of the first two men to demonstrate how it can be done.

The dog-track solution of a mechanical rabbit falls short. There needs to be a more magnetic attraction. Since running never has been professionalized, a bag of gold is out of the question. But a Hollywood cutie might work for non-married runners. Or a collection of modern best-sellers on how to pursue happiness would be appropriate. Perhaps happiness, itself, appropriately gilded, could be geared up for the occasion and pursued by the rising generation of milers.

They will never be happy now until they have chopped five seconds off the best times that will be marked up by Bannister and Landy before they hang up their spikes.

Censure Resolution

By David Lawrence

Action Against McCarthy Has No Precedent

There isn't the slightest shred of constitutional authority to back up a resolution of censure on the basis of the charges filed against Sen. McCarthy — and most of the members of the Senate know it.

The Constitution has three provisions that could possibly be invoked to censure or expel members. These read as follows:

"Each house shall be the judge of the elections, returns, and qualifications of its own members . . .

"Each house may determine the rules of its proceedings, punish members for disorderly behavior, and with the concurrence of two thirds, expel a member . . .

"The senators and representatives . . . shall in all cases except treason, felony, and breach of the peace, be privileged from arrest during their attendance at the session of their respective houses, and in going to and returning from the same; and for any speech or debate in either house they shall not be questioned in any other place."

THERE HAVE BEEN 121 cases in which members of the Senate have been involved in contests over elections or over the improper use of money in their campaigns and some have been seated and others have been denied seats. In every instance the question was raised only when the new member presented his credentials for admission.

Thus in the case of Sen. Langer, at present chairman of the Senate Judiciary Committee, an issue was presented in the 1941 session immediately after his election in 1940 on the majority of a Senate committee recommended that "inasmuch as the charge of 'moral turpitude' had been proven beyond all reasonable doubt the integrity of the United States Senate be upheld by denying William Langer the right to be a senator from North Dakota.

In that case it had been alleged that Langer while governor had received $25,000 from the Great North Railway for stock in some lands in Mexico already expropriated after the railway's taxes had been cut $150,000 a year. The Senate refused to approve the committee report and by a vote of 52 to 30 upheld Langer's right to his seat in the Senate.

THIS CASE involved personal behavior prior to admission to the Senate. Hence it came under the question of proper "qualifications" for membership in the Senate. There have been 16 expulsion cases involving misdemeanors, felonies and treason.

In the only three cases involving actual censure, one involved a physical encounter between Sen. Tillman and Sen. McLaurin, both of South Carolina.

Another case involved the practice of certain senators who carried fire-arms while in the Senate.

The third case involved Sen. Bingham of Connecticut. The resolution of censure exonerated him from personal misbehavior by declaring that what he did was "not the result of corrupt motives."

He was reprimanded for designating as one of his clerks on his committee a man who was an employe of a manufacturers association in his own state interested in the tariff.

It is a blot on the record of the Senate that it adopted that resolution. Dollar-a-year men have been employed in executive agencies in the past and have sat in confidential meetings.

Even in this instance the case was presented to the Senate immediately upon its occurrence and not as an after-thought three years later as is happening now with most of the charges filed against Sen. McCarthy.

Nearly all of the acts charged against Sen. McCarthy are alleged to have occurred prior to the time he was elected to his present term in November 1952 by the people of the State of Wisconsin. He was not questioned as to his "qualifications" on these or any other of the same matters before the Senate accepted his credentials in January 1953.

THE EPISODE involving his sale of a book for $10,000 to the Lustron Corp. relating to housing and veterans occurred in 1951. The hearings by a Senate committee looking into his personal financial transactions about which he declined to testify because he conspired, occurred before the election of 1952.

The McCarthy speech attacking Gen. Marshall also was made before the junior senator from Wisconsin presented his credentials in 1953.

He is as immune from censure or punishment for what happened in his senatorial term, since expired, as Truman was when he refused early this year to answer questions about Harry Dexter White in response to a subpoena from a House committee.

As for the charges of discourteous handling of two alleged Communists and his resentment over Gen. Zwicker's refusal to cooperate as a witness after failing to prevent the honorable discharge of a Communist from the Army, these open up new questions about how polite committee chairmen have to be with recalcitrant witnesses. These are no standards or rules now.

So far as other charges are concerned that relate to the conduct of a senator as a committee chairman or as speaker in the Senate, there isn't a single instance complained of that hasn't a parallel in the acts of many other senators, Democrats as well as Republicans.

If the Senate ever passes a resolution censuring the Wisconsin senator on any of those points, a flood of censure resolutions condemning at least a third of the members of the Senate could be offered on the basis of such an unconstitutional precedent.

(N. Y. Herald Tribune)

By Any Other Name

By TRUMAN TWILL

T. Manvilic, the tomcat who writes like a man, says he is changing his name. He left this manuscript under an empty milk bottle on the table at the Twillery last night.

"This will let you know I am off to see the wizard of Oz, but before I go there is something I want to say. I am thinking of changing my name.

That is, it stood for something in the so-called civilization of our times. It was like naming children for Franklin D. Roosevelt, Wendell Willkie and Greta Garbo. But time has run on and left me holding the bag for a name that is no longer recognizable. Its original bearer has dropped out of the news temporarily. There are people who have no conditioned reflexes when they hear the name uttered. It leaves them blank.

"In fact, I might as well call myself Mdivani, which at one time was a name with just as much significance as the one I chose to bear. It would not mean a thing to the ordinary run of people and cats. They would want to know what is a Mdivani, as though no one ever had heard of the famous Georgian family which provided husbands for American movie stars during the plush-carpet era of the cinema.

"In the meantime, a new sensation is sweeping the western world. That is why I may petition the court to change my monicker to Ruby Rosa, thereby honoring the new playboy of the high rent district. This would make my name topical once more, which is the way it should be. Before I used up my nine lives I might have to change it once more, although there is no one in sight at the moment to challenge the reigning champion.

"I am in no position to criticize anyone for being this way. On the contrary I am in a position to point with pride to the self-sacrificing manner in which the heroic members of my sex go beyond the call of ordinary duty. I hardly need to say that not all males are heroic. Some are humdrum and commonplace.

"These are born to blush unseen. They never get their pictures in the papers. Hollywood never takes an option on them. They never get into exclusive places in New York City or anywhere else. They are not involved in deportation proceedings because no one wants to send them away or get them back.

"I am glad I was not born to live and die in obscurity. That is another reason I want to keep my name up to date, so people will know why I am famous. It takes all kinds of people to make a world, and it takes all kinds of cats to achieve a state of felinity. I shall do my share.

"So if you have no objection, I shall sometimes use the name of Ruby Rosa to identify myself. I shall not abandon the name of T. Manville but shall merely put it aside out of consideration for those who may never have heard of his activities in my line of work.

"Meanwhile, I call it to your attention that the bottle on top of this manuscript is empty and was the last bottle in the refrigerator. When I come back from seeing the wonderful wizard, I shall be hungry again."

Marion County History Brevities

By EDNA S. DUTTON

It is a matter of speculation whether the ancient Eries first succeeded the so-called Mound Builders in Marion and surrounding communities in this part of the state. The Indian tradition is that the Eries were a very numerous and powerful people, and according to the Jesuit Father, resided in intrenched or stockaded villages called "castles." They were evidently far in advance of the Red Men who followed in the art of self defense and cultivation of the soil. They inhabited a large part of Northern Pennsylvania and Ohio and gave the name to Lake Erie. The sites of their ancient villages and remnants of stockaded intrenchments were found years later along the river bottoms and valleys.

Knowland Merits Praise on Leadership

By Raymond Moley

LOS ANGELES

Let us stop for a moment and consider the performance of the hardest - working man in Washington, Senate Majority Leader William F. Knowland. The presidency, of course, involves more momentous decisions, and some presidents have worked themselves to death. But currently the occupant of the White House need not undertake a fraction of the unremitting toil that falls upon the majority leader. Nor is Knowland deserving merely of the credit mingled with sympathy which goes to a man who bears heavy burdens. He not only does the job but does it well.

To assume the task of a parliamentary leader is a matter involving real courage. To assume it when the margin of majority is such that one death may shift the balance is courage of a high order. To assume the job when it has just been vacated by a Robert Taft would seem to most mortals to be foolhardy.

ALL THESE extraordinary conditions have surrounded Knowland since the fatal day when Taft surrendered the reins. At that moment the Republican margin in the Senate was not only small but poised delicately on two or three quiet unreliable Republicans.

There were also some Republican senators who hated McCarthy enough to endanger the unity of the party. There was also McCarthy himself, who hated Communists so much that he, too, was willing to make trouble for his party.

There were in the quarrelsome brood which Knowland was required to lead do-gooders and rugged individualists, internationalists and nationalists.

There were those who would follow our allies into neutralism, and those willing to cast the bloody die in Asia.

A reading of the interminable pages of the Congressional Record reveals how faithfully, forcefully, and at the same time how tactfully Knowland managed to push through a creditable program and leads one to feel nothing but admiration.

The management of the atomic energy filibuster was a triumph. Morse alone would have been a heavy cross to bear. A good third of the Democratic minority was willing to go to any lengths to wreck the Republican program.

It may not be realized by many who are not directly interested, but Knowland has heavy committee work like any other senator.

HE IS CHAIRMAN of the subcommittee of the Committee on Appropriations which deals with the enormous budget of the Army Corps of Engineers. This involves an appropriation of 470 million dollars.

Hundreds of big and little projects must be examined, and every care must be taken to prevent waste and extravagance. A reading of the 1,672 pages of the hearings, which is a part of my duty as a journalist, reveals how carefully Knowland attended to his job.

He was compelled also to defend the bill on the floor and accompany it to conference. This in itself would be a full-time job for some senators. But Knowland must also follow the exacting business of the Foreign Relations Committee.

He also must be the constant contact with the White House and interpret the President to the Senate and, what is much more important, interpret the Senate to the President.

Unlike Alben Barkley, who when majority leader said that he carried the flag of the President in the Senate, Knowland conceives himself to be an agent not of the President but of the Senate.

Finally, there are patronage and politics here in California. There are factions in the Republican party here which are not always in perfect harmony with each other.

GOV. KNIGHT has his ideas of how the party should be managed. There is a group devoted to the President, some members of which occasionally overlook the fact that Knowland and Nixon are fast friends. There is the inevitable rivalry between the north and south of the state. This must be compromised.

No person in the position of Sen. Knowland can expect to be spared criticism. There are politicians in England and France who see in him a bar to the appeasement of Red China.

There are captious men of the press in Washington whose life's mission is to assail those vested with power.

There are the extremists in his own party. And there are those peevish constituents who expect Knowland to lay aside all else and get their loans or their jobs or their gratuities from some government agency.

The beam of Knowland's achievement stands out well against the motives found by the critics.

A Circle Disrupted

By MARK DANA

Both religious and non-religious persons find a measure of solace in mortal philosophy about death. Perhaps the millions of persons who have felt warmly toward the Dionne sisters will include some who will temper their regret over the sudden, untimely passing of Emilie with a self-reminder that eventually the famed quintuplets would have to separate anyway, and this noted and appealing family would be broken up by the natural processes of marriage, differing vocations and other factors which disrupt the closest of family ties.

True, one of these fine and lovely sisters, born to a lowly but ardently religious couple, already had left home briefly, aspiring to be a nun, but returned to the home hearth due to frail health. Almost any day, it could have been expected that the circle would sway and break otherwise, just as beloved children in other beloved homes ultimately cease being children and nestlings, and fare forth to their individual destinies. The girls were 20 years old, and mature enough to seek and lead their separate lives. It would have been quaintly appealing but unrealistic for them to remain together always, or even in the same community. Death merely broke a slender chain which was bound to be riven, and this reminder must provide whatever consolation it can to people solicitous and merely curious, admiring or merely gazing, now that Emilie has gone.

There is other solace, too, of a negative one. The girls and their parents resisted temptations for great wealth through exploitation. From babyhood, the five girls could have been a four-star attraction in any circus atmosphere, and their parents could have been rich through silly and futile counsel on fertily-diets to the gullible rabble. Instead, the whole family has remained an inspiration and an example, and this fact accentuates a feeling of personal loss to well-wishing people throughout the world.

Daily Bible Thought

"Go ye into all the world."—Mark 16:15. It is more than a coincidence that there is great hunger in every non-Christian land. Millions have died of starvation in Russia but in all non-Christian lands soul hunger stalks as well.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Sir Kenneth Rules the Waves

Sir Kenneth Clark, an art educator, heads Britain's governmental Television Authority which will control British video and announces that commercials will not be allowed in any way that "detracts from the value of a program as entertainment, instruction or information."

This is a large order and can drive the commission off its rocker. . . There are people who hold that any commercial detracts from the value of any program. . . And there are programs which invite the question: Has it any value and would it be possible to detract from it?

England will "bow" on commercials that disturb "the viewing of a 'Peter-Pan-after.'" This is the dream of American TV addicts, commenced as they are to the recurrent, mysdisappearing, "there-they-go-again" routines of the sponsors.

In this country programs entertaining, instructive or informative, are intermittently sideswiped by sales pitches. The prima donna has to make way for the detergent or cigaret; the best comedian is an entertainer one moment and a plug for a soap or auto the next. . . The Johns Hopkins professor, the college dean and the scientist get tempered without warning by a roofer or a brewer. . . And in the matter of "information" our newscasters frequently sound like this:

"Today two transatlantic planes crashed somewhere between Newfoundland . . . and the mid-ocle up. . . The pilot of one plane, when interviewed said, 'I have smoked this cigaret for ten years and like the flavor' . . . Both planes were. . . Ing size. . . Now back to Washington and the details of our boxtop contest."

The British Authority says it is determined to give the TV commercial "majestical dignity." . . . (We can't wait to see this fried with a beer commercial.) A vacuum-cleaner mogul, a college head, a movie critic, a lawyer, a welfare worker, a banker and an art gallery director are on the authority. We would like to see a vacuum cleaner operate on some of the commercials on the American air. (A good shovel and broom man might help, too.)

A man who shot and wounded his wife at a race track has been given five years. He couldn't have used the defense that she tore up a winning ticket placed in her care. On appeal he may claim she had the key horse in the daily double but held out on him.

—:—

Seven lawyers helped John Rockefeller get that $5,500,000 divorce settlement in Reno, which should dispose of the idea Bobo was the winner. . . Our first instinct was to ask whether with that much money involved, she won a divorce or a jackpot program.

-:-

One family, Lou and Eugene Marron, of Brielle, N. J. hold two world fishing records . . . They caught swordfish weighing 772 and 1,182 pounds. We would still like to see how good they are against catfish, eels and snapper blues on a wet day.

—:—

Conrad Hilton has bought the Statler Hotel chain and must by this time be the largest holder of cigarette-burned furniture on earth . . . not to mention the item of bedposts damaged through use as bottle openers.

Mr. Hilton thinks when he hears the question, "Got a room and bath?"

That French trans-ocean plane that crashed in Connecticut passed so low over our bungalow that it made our hair stand on end. (What hair?) . . . "Midafternoon" won a horse race at $24 the other day and Shudda Haddim's alibi for missing it is, 'It was later than I thought.'

Crosstown traffic in New York has never been worse. . . It took us a half an hour to go five blocks through 42nd Street yesterday and the taxi driver's only soothing comment was "Don't complain, Bud; we only lost five yards on that last play."

Midtown New York now has an exhibition of old autos. Who remembers the Grout? The Rambler? The Haupt? The Marmon?

News of Other Years

Around Council's Table

A new 1,000 gallon fire engine will be purchased by the city from the Seagrave Corp. of Columbus. This was determined Monday night when City Council transferred $24,460 from the General Fund to the Equipment fund for the purpose of buying the engine.

The new fire engine will be located at the W. Center St. station and will replace an engine which has been in use since 1927.

The old pumper will be retained at the station as a piece of standby equipment to be used only in case of extreme necessity.

Safety-Service Director Ralph Forrest had been authorized earlier to take bids for the engine and enter into contract for the engine.

Bids were accepted last week. Besides that of Seagrave, only other bidder on the engine was the American LaFrance Foamite Corp. of Elmira, N.Y.

Railroad Study Asked

In other action at an abbreviated meeting last night, Council authorized Mayor Harold Robinson to request the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio to investigate the traffic delays caused by railroad trains.

The resolution referred specifically to the movement of Erie and New York Central Railroad trains in the downtown area. The mayor was authorized to request the commission to investigate the location of the westward home signal, now located west of Oak St., with the view to have that signal moved east of State St.

Such action would eliminate much blocking of downtown streets by trains waiting to get a clear signal.

Also to be investigated are the practices of the Erie Railroad tower operators at the A. C. tower located at the Union Depot, and the movement f Erie and New York Central trains on both the main tracks and the Dayton division tracks.

Petition Approved

Approval was given by Council to the request of Doyle Cook to install a chiropodist office in the rear of the house located at 819 S. Prospect St. The Planning Commission had given its approval to the motion last week.

Plat Accepted

Council also accepted the plat of Dennis L. and Sara Trachsel and confirmed the dedication of the streets and alleys located in the area.

The plat consists of about five acres of land on the undeveloped section of Franconia Ave., running through to Madison Ave. Some 19 lots are contained in the plat, which Trachsel is planning to use for the construction of new homes. Franconia Ave. will be developed by Trachsel with a 16-foot macadam paving and the addition of sewer, water, and gas mains.

Engineer Makes Request

A request was made by City Engineer John V. Ruth after Council had finished its routine business that anyone desiring to petition Council for street improvements begin by consulting his office.

The request was made after three such petitions were returned by Ruth because they lacked the proper number of signatures. Ruth said his office would check with the records at the County Courthouse and place the correct name on the proposed petition.

Several petitions have been refused in the past, including the three last night, because persons signing did not sign their names as they were listed on the deeds to the property.

Ruth said since his office had to make the check anyway, it would be easier to put the correct name on the petition before it was taken to the owners of affected property.

Improvements on Uhler Ave., Brentwood Drive, and Glenwood Dr. were one step nearer completion last night after Ruth submitted a letter giving the estimates of the costs of the projects.

Uhler Ave. would be resurfaced between Ohio Ave. and Indiana Ave. at an estimated cost of $15,880.50, of which $12,258 would be paid by residents on the street.

Sewers would be installed on Brentwood Dr. and Glenwood Dr. at a cost of $6,893.35, with residents being assessed $5,715.69 of the sum.

Pay Hike Refused

Councilman Don Quaintance of the fifth ward, chairman of the finance committee, reported his group had studied the possibility of granting pay raises to firemen, but said unless the city found new sources of revenue, money would not be available for the program.

He said the budget for next year, which is now being drawn up by his committee, would be in the red by over $70,000 unless new revenue was found.

Councilman-at-large, Warren E. Diehl raised the question of the possibility of extending the corporation limits or instituting a city income tax.

Bid on Impounded Cars

Forrest reported he had received a bid from the Road Service Garage on Campbell St. to take care of legally impounded cars at a rate of three dollars for towing within the city limits and one dollar per day storage charge.

Forrest said he would consult with City Solicitor George Piacentino on the legality of the bid and enter into the contract if all matters were acceptable. The contract would last for one year.

Petition Forthcoming

Councilman-at-large Richard Lister reported there would be a petition soon before Council to make part of Indiana Ave. a one-way street with a sidewalk line drawn on one side, similar to that on Hill St. between S. Main St. and S. State St.

N.Y. Stock Quotations

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market broke off its four-day decline today and advanced briskly into the early afternoon.

Well distributed gains went from 1 to 3 points in many instances. Losses were small and usually well scattered.

As prices rose, trading activity gained momentum and maintained a pace well past the rather moderate 2,280,000 shares traded yesterday.

Aircrafts were stars of the turn ahead, maintaining the strength shown all through the recent decline. Also higher were the steels, motors, rubbers, farm implements radio-televisions, coppers, chemicals, building materials, movie issues, railroads, and utilities.

The oils were neglected. Airlines remained steady.

Higher were U.S. Steel, Youngstown Sheet & Tube, American Telephone, Western Union, Santa Fe, Southern Railway, U.S. Rubber, American Broadcasting, Paramount, American Bosch, General Dynamics, Douglas Aircraft, Grumman, North American Aviation, Radio Corp., General Motors, and Studebaker.
